Veterans Will Attend Annual Meeting Here

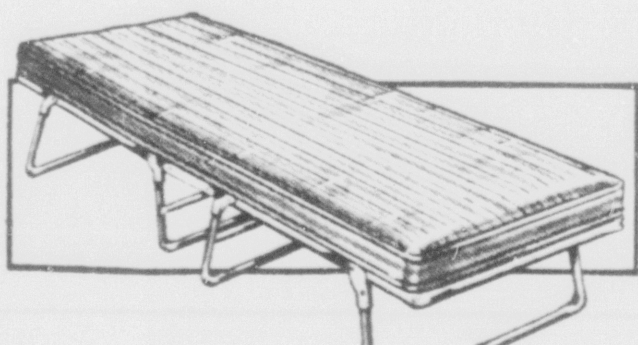

Veterans of World War I who served in France from Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Nebraska will attend the seventh annual Central States Promenade of La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, which is to be held at the Antlers Hotel Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Forty and Eight as this subsidiary of the American Legion is known in English, meaning that 40 men and eight horses were crowded into French box cars in the war, is headed by Chef de Chemin de Fer, otherwise National Commander Sam Friedman, who is expected to attend the meeting. W. C. Powers of Colorado Springs, president of the Central States Promenade, is in charge of arrangements. There will be a long list of distinguished guests, and there is a full program for the three days ending in a business session Saturday.

The convention will open with registration at 9 a.m. Thursday. There will be a welcome coffee for ladies at the American Legion Hut at 2:30 p.m.; a cocktail hour at the American Legion Hut at 5:30 p.m. The vogue 1315 Installation Banquet will be held at the Antlers Hotel at 7 p.m.

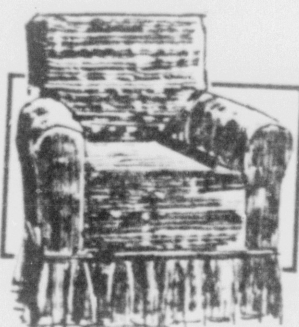

Friday morning the ladies will make a tour of the Trianon and Pikes Peak. There will be a ladies' luncheon and fashion show at the Antlers Hotel at 1 p.m. and at 6 p.m. a chuckwagon bar-B-Q will be held at the flying W. Ranch, with western entertainment.

The Air Force Academy will be toured Saturday morning. The business session, and with election of officers, will be held at the Antlers Hotel at 2 p.m. There will be a cocktail hour at 5:30 p.m. and the annual banquet will be held at 7 p.m. with Chef de Chemin de Fer Passe Dr. Hal D. Stauffer master of ceremonies. Dancing will follow.

MORDECHAI SHALEV

Israel Bond Campaign Dinner Slated

The Hon. Mordechai Shalev will be the guest speaker Sunday at a dinner at the Valley HJ Country Club commencing the campaign of the sale of Israel Bonds by the Colorado Springs Israel Bond Committee.

Shalev is consul general of Israel for the 11 western states, Hawaii and Alaska. He has been a member of the Foreign Ministry since 1949 and served as First Secretary of Israel's Embassy in Washington.

The distinguished diplomat received a masters degree in international relations from the American University, Washington, D. C. He is a veteran of World War II and served his country during the War of Independence as a captain in the Sixth Brigade. Shalev is a major in the Reserve Army of Israel. In June 1961, he took his present post as the top-ranking diplomat for his nation in the entire west.

Featured with Shalev will be the internationally famous concert, television, radio and stage star, Raasche. She has performed for capacity audiences throughout western Europe, Australia, South Africa and the United States. Raasche has received notices from such notable critics as Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times, Bert McCord of the New York Herald Tribune, and John Chapman of the New York Daily News. She will present a concert of songs of the Jewish people from slavery to freedom.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Sam V. Gordon, 632-3213. The event will begin at 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Man Sentenced To Jail by Municipal Judge

Daniel Manser, 21, 2414 N. Chestnut St., was sentenced to 10 days in city jail Tuesday on his guilty plea to riotous conduct. Judge Allan Asher also fined Manser $50 for carrying a concealed weapon, a .38, and ordered the gun destroyed.

Manser had pleaded innocent to the charges in Municipal Court Monday but changed his plea to guilty Tuesday.

Andrew Garcia, 37, 414 S. Cascade Ave., and Lester Goode, 48, of Denver, both pleaded guilty to being drunk and received $25 fines.

A $25 bond was ordered forfeited by Floyd Baldwin, 22, of Kiowa, who failed to appear in court on a careless driving charge.

Robert Morris, 24, 1110 Cooper St., pleaded guilty to failing to yield the right of way and was fined $25. A $50 fine was imposed against Dianna Malacara, 23, 2120 Manitoba Dr., on her guilty plea to reckless driving. Judge Asher suspended $25.

James Briggs, 41, 1 Scott St., had a $25 bond forfeited when he failed to appear in court on a charge of speeding and a signal light violation.

President Theodore Roosevelt established the first U.S. bird refuge in 1903 at Pelican Island, in the Indian River section of Florida.

Ruby Is Receiving Mental Treatment

DALLAS, Tex. AP—Convicted slayer Jack Ruby is receiving treatment for his mental condition in his county jail cell. Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade disclosed.

Wade and Sheriff Bill Dierker said they did not know what doctors had prescribed for the condemned slayer, but Judge Joe B. Brown told reporters later, "I believe they are giving him happy pills (tranquilizers) or something."

Wade said psychiatrists hope to "snap Ruby out of his depression."

A court-appointed psychiatrist, Dr. Robert Stubbfield, said psychiatrists believe Ruby suffers from depression and persecution complex.

Arabian Tribesmen May Seek New Peace

ADEN, Federation of South Arabia. AP—About 300 rebel tribesmen have gathered in the Radfan hills, prompting British speculation that they may be discussing peace overtures to the government of the Federation of South Arabia.

British jet fighters ranging over the area have held their fire for two days so as not to scuttle any peace effort.

A meeting such as this is the traditional way the tribes would discuss move to ask for peace," said a South Arabian official.

The British army went into action against the rebels three weeks ago to secure the desert road linking Aden with Dhalia to the north.

Green Mountain Falls News

By CAROLYN McADAMS — 687-9065

The monthly covered dish was answered Tuesday afternoon when one of the cottages at Rustic Cottages was enveloped in flames, causing some $2,000 damage. The firemen controlled the blaze in 45 minutes, which was a record performance in the very old building. A smoldering fire left burn in the yard by tourists who had occupied the cottage was the cause of the fire. A grass fire at the Bud Markham's "Gadabout" cottage, was put out immediately by the 18 firemen, who answered the call Saturday morning. Lynn Gayler drove the No. 1 fire truck, manned by John Haynes, Ralph Singmaster, Jerry Bellinger, John Carey, Les Gayler and Ronald White, with others following.

Ten firemen of the Green Mountain Falls-Chippewa Park volunteer fire department, received their Standard First Aid cards after taking review instructions of 10 hours over the last 3 weeks, which is required to keep their American National Red Cross cards effective. Those in the class were John Haynes, Walt Peters, Ralph Singmaster, Les Gayler, Gene Morrissey, L. D. Martin, Les Howell, Frank Van Arsdale, Joe Latham and Vincent Young. The instructor was Rod Lewis from the Manitou Ranger Station.

Everyone in town was excited Saturday to see the shipment of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Peters' new home from Des Moines, Iowa. The pre-cut material for the Capp Home Plan will be a two level residence.

Mrs. Fay Rhyme and daughter Carol Lee Rhyme of Colorado Springs were hostesses for a miscellaneous bridal shower.

Following Miss Shirley Workman, niece of Mrs. Rhyme, and Mrs. Gwen Mosser of Crystal. Twenty guests attended the party held in the Community Building Thursday evening, May 14. Pink and white was the color scheme for the decorations and refreshments. Prizes won for the traditional games were turned over to the bride elect. A paper plate rehearsal bouquet was made from the ribbons tying all the girls, which will be used at the wedding rehearsal. The wedding date for Miss Workman and Jay Vandell, of Colorado Springs, has been set for May 30 at the Church in the Wildwood.

The annual awards luncheon for the Ute Pass Hill Country Club was held Tuesday, May 12, at the Paint Pony Country Club, with 30 reservations. The 22 week season for the eight teams began September 10, 1963 at the Ute Lanes. Trophies were presented by the president and secretary. Reeds Indoor Rodeo team of Wini Kraas, captain; Phyllis Giles, Jan Pettit and Pat Dillon, won first place trophy with all players and the sponsor receiving the attractive figure of a bowler on a pedestal. Second place trophy was won by Hughes Excavating team with Madeleine Hughes, captain. Ann Rasner, Lou Osborne and Ella Knox Edwards. Grocery won high team game, with players Martha Gayler, captain; Elizabeth Hotson, Barbara Gafford and Blanche Howell. High team series was captured by Browncraft Steakhouse, with players Edna Aslin, captain; Marge Krantz, Anna Ruth Sharpe and Mary Mayfield. The high average award went to Lu Church for 154 single game, high game handicap was won by Phyllis Giles for 236. High series handicap by Martha Gayler 574. High individual scratch game of 222 was given Mary Mayfield. High individual scratch series to Jan Pettit for 533. Jan also received the achievement award for improving her average with 13 pins. The annual election resulted in re-election of all former officers for the second term.

President Lu Church, vice president Wini Kraas, secretary Maxine Haynes, treasurer Gwen Mosser, Mrs. Phyllis Giles was appointed Sgt. of Arms. It was voted to begin the 1964-65 season in September and to play at the Trail Bowl in Manitou Springs.

Mrs. Martha Gayler has taken Juanita Johnson's place on the Woodland Pharmacy team to finish out the season with the Woodlanders Bowling League. Substitute players last week were Jane Downs and Isabelle Tompkins.

Mrs. Helen Quinn, Green Mountain Falls with Mrs. Carla Forsythe, of Cascade, both instructors for the Youth Bowling Association at The Trail Bowl, were two players on the five women's team sponsored by the Trail Bowl, who entered the Women's National Bowling Tournament, sponsored by the Women's International Bowling Congress and held in Minneapolis, Minn. recently. Besides bowling pleasure, they all had a wonderful time and are looking forward to the 1965 meet in Portland, Oregon.

Mrs. Gay Stafford, owner of the Baskworms Liar and Gift Center, Highway 24, has issued invitations to her "Christmas in May" open house from May 16-24. Daily door prizes for those who register during the week.

The Manitou Springs Parent Teacher Association held its installation of new officers Tuesday May 12, in the Community Building, Green Mountain Falls, at 7:45 p.m. Buck Ravenstein, past president, was the installing officer. Mrs. Bette Beal of Green Mountain Falls is the new president and gave a response for all officers. Some 75 persons were present. A tentative project this summer will be a Parent Teacher Association booth at the "Days of '58" celebration in August, to be held in Manitou Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Taylor of Great Bend, Kan., were here for the weekend to plant sweet peas in their garden at "Weonit" cottage, their vacation home.

Rev. and Mrs. Virgil Kellogg with Mr. and Mrs. Hefner, members of the Cripple Creek Congregational Church, were special guests at a church dinner, Sunday May 17, given by the Missions, Social Action and Fellowship Board, church in the Wildwood. A Freewill offering for Home Missions was taken, which will be given the Cripple Creek Church.

Sunday, May 17, was Christian Enlistment Sunday, for the Church in the Wildwood, with visitations made on church members and friends. Chairman for the Finance program is Morris Hamilton. A complimentary turkey dinner was served the volunteer workers, on Tuesday, May 12, when teams were organized. Preparing the dinner was Maxine Haynes, Laura Jones and Helen Dugdale. The annual every member visitation was changed to coincide with the Church's fiscal year beginning June 1st through May 31st.

Members of the Confirmation Class were Janice Berendt, Steven Berendt, Michael Pickett and Steven Pickett, who were received into the Church in the Wildwood Sunday May 17, in observance of Pentecost, fifty days after Easter.

Nest Sunday, May 24, the God and Country awards will be presented Terry Thomson and Layne Van Arsdale at the 10:55 worship service.

The administration of President James Monroe was known as the "Era of Good Feeling".

LICK STREP INFECTIONS

Viruses have made the headlines so often, bacteria such as streptococci have been neglected. These micro-organisms were the scourge of a generation ago, before the sulfonamides and antibiotics decreased their importance. But they remain with us, and certain types (beta hemolytic) trigger such well known ailments as rheumatic fever and Bright's disease (acute glomerular nephritis).

The strep bug is a problem today—but it need not be, because we know how to handle it. The method is simple: A throat swab and culture can be made on every child with a sore throat or tonsillitis. When the beta hemolytic strep is found to be the culprit, an antibiotic is administered in adequate dosage for a sufficient length of time to eliminate these bacteria from the system.

If this were done religiously, there would be a considerable lowering of the incidence of rheumatic fever and kidney infection. These diseases practically never occur when treatment of sore throat is started within 48 hours. In addition, there would be fewer ear and sinus infections. The number of strep infections in the neighborhood would be reduced because the patient becomes noninfectious to others within 34 hours after therapy.

How does a physician know whether a strep throat exists? He cannot tell merely by looking—as different micro-organisms are different in causing redness and swelling of throat and tonsils, along with fever and pain on swallowing. The only way to find out is to remove some of the secretions with a sterile cotton pledget and send it to the laboratory.

A quick and less expensive method is available to make the determination. This removes the objection of high cost. In some cities, Chicago for one, the health department and heart association are pushing the plan mainly as a preventive for rheumatic fever.

This disease is more likely to be triggered by the virulent strains of beta hemolytic streptococci. In the future, we may find treatment is needed only when the stronger organisms are present.

No, except those contained in warm milk, a nightcap that seems to help some persons. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on insomnia.

Diuretic Action

Reply
No—excessive urination. The main object of diuretics is to eliminate sodium, which accumulates in the body and leads to waterlogged tissues (edema).

Painful Sitting

Everybody Agrees Civil Rights to Be Amended

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The 11 weeks of Senate debate on the civil rights bill have produced agreement so far on only one thing—that the measure must be amended.

At first, the bill's sponsors and administration officials argued that the Senate should pass the measure in the same form as it came from the House.

As the weeks have gone by, this position has been eroded. Now Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and the bill's floor managers are supporting a package of amendments.

The biggest push for changes has come from two sources—the 19 Southerners fighting the bill and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

In recent weeks, however, they have centered their fight on the jury trial issue. They demand the bill specify the right of a jury trial for every defendant in criminal contempt actions that arise out of civil rights enforcement suits under the bill. Normally, contempt actions in federal courts are decided solely by the judges.

Dirksen has proposed 70 amendments to meet features of the legislation he considers muddy or objectionable.

After a series of conferences, Dirksen, Kennedy and a bipartisan group of senators reached agreement on the package of amendments. They contended the changes would not injure the bill but would win over some of those who were lukewarm or downright cool to the measure.

Dirksen has proposed numerous technical changes but concentrated his efforts in two areas. In both, his ideas have been incorporated in the compromise amendment package at least in part.

One of his efforts is to cut back on the government's power to file suits to enforce the bill.

The other is to write into the bill specific language reserving to the states the right to act exclusively for definite time periods where states have laws covering the same subject as those titles in the bill.

So far, despite all the talk of amendments, no change has been made in the bill which cleared the House 290 to 130 on Feb. 10.

As it stands now one of the most controversial provisions is the one dealing with public accommodations.

The House version states that all persons must be given access to specified establishments without regard to race, color, religion or national origin.

Named are hotels and motels—except for small owner-operated establishments with five rooms or less for rent—restaurants, amusement places, gas-line stations and establishments located within one of the preceding types or serving their patrons.

Bona fide private clubs would not be covered unless their facilities were open to the public for dining or overnight accommodation.

Any establishment would be opened to all persons even if it were required by state or local law to discriminate.

The bill now provides for enforcement through filing of an enforcement suit by the aggrieved person or the attorney general.

Under the Dirksen amendment package, this would be changed so that the attorney general could file only if a pattern of discrimination existed. Otherwise, the individual would have to sue.

Under the House bill, the attorney general, before bringing a suit, would have to refer a complaint to a state or local agency for corrective action if one existed.

Dirksen proposes to write in a definite time period for the state to act before any federal action could be taken. He points out that 34 states now have public accommodation laws, many containing criminal penalties. There are no such penalties in the proposed federal statute.

The House bill provides that if a person violated an injunction obtained under this title and were tried for criminal contempt, he would have to be given a jury trial if the penalty were more than 45 days in jail or a $300 fine. The southerners argue that this is insufficient; they demand the right to a jury trial whatever the penalty.

Dirksen and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana are sponsoring an amendment which would guarantee jury trials if the penalty exceeded 30 days or a $300 fine. This would apply to all titles of the bill.

Negro, Puerto Ricans 'Fail' Plumbing Test

NEW YORK (AP)—A Plumbers Union examination chair-grades public man says a Negro and two Puerto Ricans—central figures in a civil rights dispute—have failed qualifying tests for union membership.

The results were announced Monday night by William Dalton, chairman of the examining board of Local 2 of the Plumbers and Pipefitters Union, minutes after the written tests were completed.

Dalton told newsmen the three "weren't even close" to the passing grade of 70 per cent. He said the local never makes the 70, saying they wouldn't work with nonunion men.

Another Puerto Rican involved in the dispute couldn't appear for the test for "personal reasons," it was announced in his behalf.

A contractor's hiring of the four nonunion men had threatened to halt construction of a $25 million municipal produce market in the Bronx.

The four men previously had balked at taking union qualifying tests.

The 41 plumbers employed on the produce market job—all white—walked off the job April 30, saying they wouldn't work with nonunion men.

Plumbing work on the job resumed Monday for the first time since then.

The contractor, Ralph Astrove, originally hired the four men at the urging of the City Commission on Human Rights.

Gen. Gerhart Guest Speaker At Houston Meet

Gen. John K. Gerhart will be the honored guest and speaker at a luncheon in observance of Armed Forces Day in Houston, Texas, Thursday.

The North American Air Defense Commander in Chief will appear and tell the NORAD story to a joint luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club of Houston and the Houston Chamber of Commerce at the Rice Hotel that day.

Each year this combined meeting is the highlight of Houston's Armed Forces week and is coordinated by the Chamber of Commerce military affairs committee.

The Rotary Club of Houston, one of the city's most active service clubs, recently became the largest organization in Rotary International with a membership of 775.

Gen. Gerhart, with the assistance of visual aids, will tell the citizens of Houston about the NORAD mission and what the combined Canadian-United States organization is doing to counter any aerospace threat directed toward North America.

The citizens of the city now so closely associated with the United States space effort will receive a description of how NORAD's Space Detection and Tracking System charts and informs the National Aeronautics and Space Administration headquarters in Houston of all man-made objects in space.

The talk will be a colorful description of how Canada and the United States have joined forces during peacetime to provide North America with aerospace defense cover.

It will also describe how all services in the United States military establishment can forsake interservice rivalry for the common safety of the nation and the free world.

Guardian Life Holds Meeting At Broadmoor

The Guardian Life Insurance Company of America will hold its annual mortgage correspondents meeting today through Saturday at the Broadmoor Hotel. The meeting theme will be "Industrial Financing."

Speakers during the four-day meet will include: R. John Griefen, vice president of Cabot, Cabot & Forbes in Boston; Tom C. Driscoll, vice president, Houston Mortgage Co.; Frederick P. Rose, president of Rose Associates Inc., New York City; Walter D. Smyth, president, Wilsch Mortgage Corp., Los Angeles; W. E. Miller, president-treasurer, Fraser Mortgage Co., Cleveland; John C. Oppermann, vice president, Pacific States Mortgage Service, Inc.; Omar E. Thomas, assistant vice president, Kissell Co., Springfield; Roger C. Olson, president, Dwyer-Curtis & Co., Los Angeles; and William D. Galbreath, president, Percy Galbreath & Sons Inc., Memphis.

C of C to Launch Membership Drive

Chamber of Commerce officials have reported that a new membership contest will get under way at the Round Up Club breakfast Thursday morning at the Swiss Chalet.

Team captains for the new contest will be Dr. Wayne Stevens and Dr. Don Green.

Bar, Restaurant Bids to Be Opened Friday

City Manager John M. Biery reminded today that bids would be opened in his office at City Hall at 10 a.m. Friday for operation of the bar and restaurant at the terminal building at the municipal airport at Peterson Field.

The bar and restaurant facilities are equipped with the necessary kitchen, bar and restaurant equipment.

Copies of instructions to bidders may be obtained from the City Clerk's office or from Stuart Wandell, airport superintendent, Peterson Field.

Springs Men Will Attend Dallas Meeting

A group of Colorado Springs men left Tuesday morning for Dallas to attend the National League's Convention. Under the leadership of local league president, Joseph Reich, the group will be making a strong bid for the convention to come to Colorado Springs in 1968.

Chamber officials report contact was made in this regard this past week in New York City by Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager Clay Banta and Thayer Tutt of the Broadmoor Hotel.

Both men had lunch with the National Navy League President, Robert Barnum, and pressed the case for Colorado Springs.

Trees Removed For Left Turn Storage Bays

Only 21 trees had to be removed in center parkings in constructing the left turn storage bays at intersections on Nevada Avenue and Platte Avenue, according to Stuart Richter, director of the City Parks and Recreation Department.

It was first believed that more than two dozen would have to be removed, but actually only 21 had to be taken out.

There is one left turn storage bay being constructed at Platte and Wahsatch Avenues and the others on Nevada Avenue.

It is believed the reduction of rear-end accidents will more than compensate for the loss of the trees.

Don Smith, city traffic engineer, said the storage bays should definitely cut down on rear-end crashes in addition to facilitating the flow of traffic, especially on Nevada Avenue. These were the main reasons for the installations.

Senior Students Visit Ft. Carson

Summer tourist season at Ft. Carson was opened, unofficially, today with the arrival of Mrs. Ray Trimble and 17 senior students from Tri-County High School at Jamesport, Mo.

Mrs. Trimble is leading her sixteenth senior trip. Fifteen of the treks have been to the Pikes Peak region with visits to Fort Carson.

The Missourians, who are here to be shown, visited the Ft. Carson U. S. Army Museum and took a short tour of the main post. They spend approximately one week on their annual trip from Missouri.

Third in Series Prospective Parents Class Set

The third series of classes for prospective parents will begin May 27th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Deane's Assembly Room at Penrose Hospital. The course is brought through the courtesy of the Sisters of Charity, Penrose Hospital and conducted by the Maternity staff of the Hospital.

The classes have proved to be of valuable assistance to hundreds of couples anxious to know and understand better the normal processes involved in Pregnancy, Labor, and Delivery.

Each series includes films, discussions cover a wide field from emotional factors of pregnancy that involve both mother and father, to complete care and feeding of the baby.

There is no charge for attending the classes and we urge all Parents to attend whether it is their first or sixth baby. Bring your friends too.

For further information call Penrose Hospital Maternity Department, 633-6611 — extension 4332.

Sportsmen Clean Eleven Mile Reservoir Area

Members of Jimmy's Camp Sportsmen's Club and the Rampart Range Sportsmen's Club (Air Force Academy) joined Sunday in cleaning up Eleven Mile Reservoir on the south and west sides. One group also worked on the east side.

Four large truckloads of trash were gathered up, beer bottles and cans, bottles of every kind, paper cups, newspapers, wire, magazines and other kinds of trash.

Taking part in the clean-up were Les Cornforth, Leo Atkinson, Art Henderson, Don Windle, Ted Flinn, Russell Hughes, Bob Eichman, Charles Snyder, Ed Pfersdorff and Betty Dickey.

Representatives of the Rampart Range Club was John Shire.

Last week the Jimmy Camp Club took eight trash barrels to Lake De Weese, near Westcliff, Colo.

Forgery Charges Dropped in District Court

A charge of forgery against Tilda Arellano was dismissed Tuesday by District Judge David W. Enoch as "the complaining witness does not desire to prosecute and has requested the district attorney's office to drop charges."

Mrs. Arellano, 34, 2924 Pennsylvania St. pleaded innocent to the charge May 15 and was scheduled for trial May 26.

According to the information filed against her she forged a $5 check March 27 with intent to deceive the El Paso County Chapter of the National Foundation.

Monument Schedules Clean Up Day Saturday

Saturday will be "clean up day" in Monument. Residents are asked to place their trash in boxes, etc., put it in the alley (or where it can easily be seen) and it will be picked up free of charge.

Executive Urges Active Interest in Government

A leading corporation executive today urged American businessmen to "stop running away from the responsibilities of citizenship, and begin taking an active role in local, state and national affairs, particularly in this important election year."

Addressing the opening four-day session of the 54th annual meeting of the Life Insurers Conference at the Broadmoor Hotel, was Guilford Dudley Jr., president of the association which comprises more than 100 of the nation's leading life insurance companies.

Dudley declared, "The question that continually haunts me is, not what we as American businessmen are running, or not running for, but what we as individuals are running away from."

Dudley, who is also president of the Life and Casualty Insurance Co. of Tennessee at Nashville, urged a more active role on the part of America's business citizens.

"In my mind we are running away when, first, we fail to insist on sound fiscal policies and balanced budgets at all levels of government. It is true that our industry joined other segments of American business in supporting a federal tax cut for business and individuals, but it should not be forgotten that we did so in a program that advocated a reduction in federal expenditures and an all-out effort to progress to a foreseeable balanced budget."

The corporation president said it may be many months before the advantages of the tax cut are realistically apparent.

In addition to his business and conference responsibilities, Mr. Dudley is also State Finance Chairman for the Republican Party of Tennessee and a member of the National Republican Finance Committee.

He went on to tell the more than 400 business executives at the meeting that "we are also running away when we fail to lift our voices in a great clamor against those who tell us that we are not in debt because we somehow owe the money to ourselves. You and I know that it is a debt in the purest sense of the word and must be paid for it our homes, savings, insurance, investments... even our very liberties are to endure."

Next the executive said, "We are running away when we sit quietly by while concentrated efforts continue to whittle away the foundations of our free enterprise system."

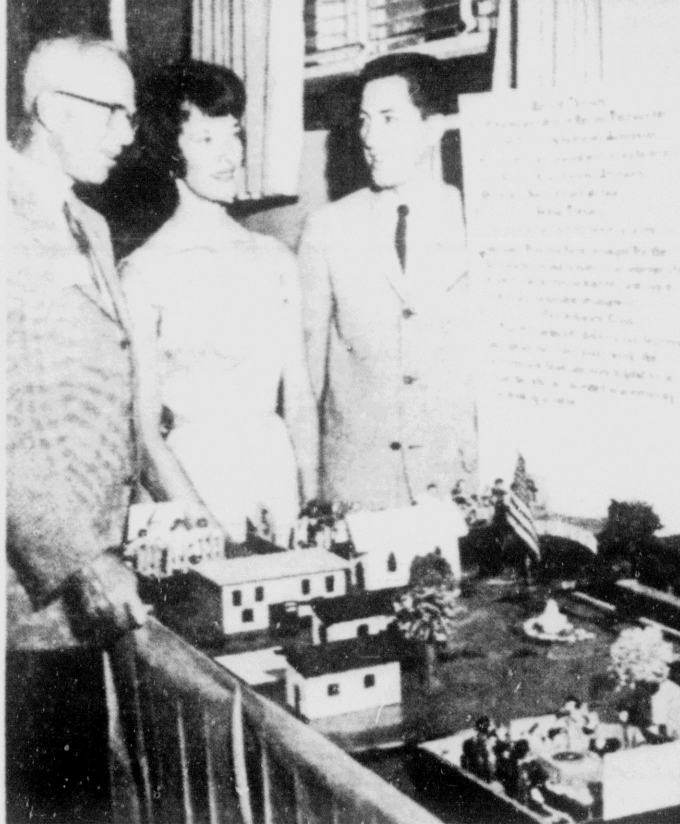

"We seem to have abandoned many of the common sense solutions to our national problems," Mr. Dudley stated, and have created a vacuum which permits a relentless flow of power to Washington. I hope the time will never come when we will be so deluded by the propaganda of social planners that we forget the traditional responsibilities at both the state and local levels of government. I am still old fashioned enough to believe that there are still a lot of decisions that the individual wants to make for himself and that he can best do so without any government program to dictate his actions."

Then, speaking as the head of Life Insurance Conference and in the interest of the life insurance industry, Mr. Dudley remarked:

"Finally, we are running away from the purpose of our business goal—if we do not acknowledge that whatever we do must be in the public interest."

In this regard, the executive said that businessmen in all industries have serious responsibilities. Speaking of his own industry, but paralleling it to others, he concluded:

"We must be able to quickly recognize changes that seem to be a public mandate. If we can anticipate the true needs of our policyholders before they become public demands, they will continue to rely on our industry and not turn to the government. Our responsibility is to see that the need is met, by the best product and that every effort is being exerted to keep the price at the lowest cost consistent with sound business practices."

A man who stole a County Engineering Dept. station wagon from an alley west of the County Building Tuesday afternoon was arrested Tuesday evening after he was seen in the vehicle at the 8th Street McDonald's Hamburger Stand by County Commissioner Charles Smith.

Smith told police he saw Prentiss Edward Cox, 39, of Houma, La., and asked him what he was doing in a county vehicle. Cox admitted he stole the wagon and waited while Smith called authorities.

Cox, who told police he was "probably wanted for embezzlement" in his home state, was placed in City Jail.

Sprout Pupils Study Geology In the Field

May 9 students from Sprout Junior High School went on a geology field trip that took them over a large portion of Southern Colorado. The students and sponsors, William Fiedler and Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, made their first stop south of Canon City in search of fossilized shark's teeth.

The group reportedly found many fine specimens, some measuring nearly an inch in length. Making their second stop at Royal Gorge, the students observed the geological features as well as spending a little time sightseeing.

Their third and last stop was made at Rudy Mountain near Buena Vista, where they searched for garnets set deep in the volcanic rock.

While traveling, this group saw many other geological formations in and around the mountains which some students said, they thought were only found in books.

Alleged Rape Charge Brought Against Man

A 28-year old man is being held in County Jail for the alleged rape of a 15-year old girl, the sheriff's office said this morning.

Deputy Sheriffs Bob Walters and Ray Carey reported that the incident is said to have happened Tuesday night in the vicinity of Ft. Carson. It is expected that the mother of the girl will sign a complaint some time today.

Coin Club Will Meet Tonight

The Colorado Springs Coin Club will hold its second monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at Carpenter's Hall. The public is welcome to attend all club meetings which always include refreshments, prizes, swapping and trading coins and a good auction.

The business meeting will include a discussion on the nomination and election of new officers for the coming year. Active membership in the club now stands at one hundred and sixty-six, with the addition of four new members at the last meeting.

New members voted into the club are Barbara Boucher, Richard A. Stoker, Mildred J. Campbell and Bernie Durance. Special award for Wednesday night's meeting will be a 1981 $5 gold piece.

A small portion of the items included in Wednesday night's auction are a buffalo nickel, 1938 D over 17 Fine, a three-legged buffalo nickel V. Fine, a 1878 8 tail feather silver dollar BU, a 1878 CC BU, a roll of 1880 9 BU many proof sets and also some very nice medallions.

The club meets twice monthly in Carpenter's Hall on the first Sunday at 1:30 p.m. and the third Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Local Attorney Speaker for Exchange Club

Exchange Club Members will hear John Gallagher, local attorney, speak on the subject "The United Nations" at the club's Thursday luncheon meeting at the Embers.

The emphasis of Gallagher's talk will be on the economic and social development of the United Nations.

Gallagher is a native of Colorado Springs and is a graduate of Springs school through junior high.

He graduated from Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and received his BA degree from Yale University.

After graduation from the Harvard Law School, he returned to Colorado Springs and became associated in the practice of law with Mervin A. Ziegler and Austin Hoyt. He is presently a partner in the firm of Gallagher and Wills.

He has served on the boards of the Humane Society, The Boys Club, Family Counseling Service, The Nutrition Camp, The English Speaking Union and the Charter Association.

He is married to the former Ellen Margaretta MacVeagh of Boston, Mass., and Colorado Springs. They have three children.

SEATO Official To Visit NORAD

Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Secretary General Suphamongkhon Konthi will be in Colorado Springs for a short stay Saturday.

The party, which will include Mrs. Konthi and A. D. M. Currow of New Zealand, another SEATO official, will arrive here early that morning.

They are scheduled to confer with the NORAD staff of NORAD Commander in Chief Gen. John K. Gerhart at 9:30 a.m.

NORAD briefing host for the short visit will be NORAD assistant chief of staff Brig. Gen. Dorr E. Newton, Jr.

The party will depart later the same day for Fort Collins, Colo.

Indecent Liberties Charge Filed Here

A charge of indecent liberties was filed in District Court Tuesday against James Adams Bryant, 48, 2419 North Franklin St.

The defendant is alleged to have made an indecent attack upon an 11-year old girl in a local motel Sunday. Bond has been set at $2,500 by District Judge David W. Enoch.

County Heart Unit Announces Blood Findings

The El Paso County Heart Unit has announced its findings on blood studies made on 513 tenth grade boys during the 1962-63 school year in Colorado Springs.

Studies included blood cholesterol and other fatty substances thought to be associated with a possible cause of hardening of the arteries.

An attempt was made to correlate levels found with family history of diseases associated with hardened arteries, as well as weight, blood pressure, fat thickness, participation in varsity sports etc. of the student himself.

The mean (average) cholesterol of 160. There were 22 levels below 120 and 29 above 210, with three above 250. It was also found there was a correlation between higher cholesterol values and the over skin fat thickness.

In order to determine if it is possible by other detailed studies to find any other differences between those with high blood fats and low blood fats, 20 students were selected from each group of those with highest, lowest and most average cholesterol.

The investigators, Doctors James John M. Fiedler, Jr., Ralph Adams, John Hays and John Ray, will not know to which category any student belongs in order to make study as objective as possible.

Each student will be given a detailed physical exam and complete medical history, a chest x-ray, electrocardiogram before and after exercise, and a series of tests on his blood repeating the previous tests but adding clotting, diabetes, thyroid tests, etc.

The purpose of the intensive study is to determine if there is any predictable correlation between serum lipid and related values and the incidence of potential or overt atherosclerotic disease in teenage males.

The Colorado Heart Association, which supported the original study with a $10,500 grant, is supplying $4,150 for the present research study.

Because of the importance of the study and the need to study a limited and carefully selected group from the original group, it is hoped cooperation of students and their parents will be 100 percent. More than $100 of medical and laboratory exams will be done on each of the students without charge. The physicians are donating their time and skill without compensation to themselves.

It is expected four internists will take part.

Parents will be contacted by phone and their consent and cooperation along with their sons will be sincerely solicited. The exams will be expected to be done outside regular school hours and will not take longer than one and a half hours for each student.

Final results will be given the parents for the information of the students or to future physicians.

Polio Vaccine To Be Available

Oral polio vaccine will be available from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Monday through Friday at the City - County Health Department, according to Dr. M. F. Schafer, department director.

The vaccine will be available without charge to anyone over six weeks of age. This will be a continuing program.

"This program is now in effect," he said. Only one of the three types of vaccine will be given at any one time.

Dr. Schafer said it was decided to make the oral polio vaccine available on this kind of basis rather than on a mass immunization basis, which concluded last Friday. Hundreds of persons took advantage of this immunization.

There was a tremendously successful oral polio vaccine campaign conducted last year spearheaded by the El Paso County Medical Society.

Those wishing oral polio vaccine may also, of course, see their private physician.

Mrs. Fred Guenther was hostess at the May 6 meeting of the New Horizon's Home Demonstration Club of Canon City. Mrs. Earl Meyers, president, presided.

Achievement Day plans were discussed and arrangements made for a hayrack ride in July. Mrs. Vera Hatti was appointed to take part in the July 4 bell ringing ceremony.

The hostess served coffee and rolls to the Mrs. George Sande- tur, Mrs. Bill Mann, Mrs. Charles Cook, Mrs. David Wilson, Mrs. Ronald Bell, Mrs. Donald Svedman, Mrs. Robert Little and Mrs. Vera Hatti.

The ladies of Shadow Hills Golf Club, Canon City, were hostesses at a dessert bridge party at the club house on May 4. Guest day was held at this time, with 50 women attending the special party.

Mrs. Catherine McKinley was assisted by Mrs. Alex Walker and a committee in decorating the club house and planning the party. May baskets formed an attractive centerpiece for the head table.

Mrs. Doris Jones won high at bridge, Mrs. L. R. Short second high and Mrs. Lillian Herring low. The surprise gift was won

Canon City Club Plans Flower Show May 27

Mrs. Vernon Wilson was hostess at the May 13 meeting of the Canon City Skyline Garden Club. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Charles Annis, who opened with a poem on dandelions.

Reports were given by the flower show committee, headed by Mrs. F. M. Schwieterman. A tentative date was set for May 27 for the show to be held in the basement of the First Methodist Church. The theme will be "Beauty is Everybody's Business." Arrangements and flowers may be brought by anyone, but no prizes will be offered.

A lesson on public parks and picnic grounds was presented by Mrs. Dean McCullough. Mrs. Wilson's arrangements included one of purple and yellow iris among purple wood florets, and the other of red and white.

Past Presidents Hold Parley

Members of the Past Presidents' Parley of the American Legion Auxiliary of Canon City met at the home of Mrs. Charles Roberts. Mrs. Roberts was assisted by Mrs. Edwin Sharman. The parley sent handkerchiefs to the Ft. Lyons VA Hospital for the patients to send as Mothers Day gifts. A spring luncheon was planned for later in the month at the Club Paradise.

SWV Auxiliary Plans Convention

Members of the auxiliary to Gen. F. D. Grant Camp, Spanish War Veterans of Canon City, resumed meetings for the spring season on May 12 at the Municipal Annex. The department convention will be held in Denver June 7-9. Mrs. W. M. Crum and Mrs. W. T. Platt were named as delegates, and Mrs. Margaret Schell and Mrs. J. M. Langworthy will be alternates.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE
Dear Heloise:

Do you ever have a batch of odd, but good nylon stockings and not one is the same color? Can't find a matching pair in the whole lot?

Well, don't panic! Here's what I did when this happened to me.

First, I gathered up all of the mesh stockings into one group, all of the seamed stockings in another group, and then the rest of the nylons.

I took one group at a time and put them in boiling water (using an "enamel" pot), added about three heaping tablespoons of salt, and let boil one minute. I turned off the heat and let the water cool with the nylons still in the pot.

After the water cooled, I removed the stockings and rinsed as usual.

Presto, they are all the same color! —Joey

Gals:

I used a stainless steel pan (one can use enamel or glass) and put the "dry" stockings in rapidly boiling water. I boiled mine three minutes.

I stripped 14 stockings this way. Only two out of the batch didn't come out beautifully.

Some stockings just must have more dye than others, I guess.

Also, one cannot expect a black stocking to match a light tan one, but you can believe it that no one was more surprised than I was to end up with some good matched stockings.

Good, sweet, Joey Thanks! —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here is a good trick I discovered when trying meat.

Just place a colander upside-down over the trying pan. It will keep the meat from splattering, but will also let the steam escape. —Zella

Dear Heloise:

When I enclose a card in wedding and shower gifts, I write on the blank side of the card—at the bottom—what I am giving, such as "Two yellow sheets", etc.

The brides and their families have said that this is the nicest thing to do for the bride or bride-to-be because it helps to prevent mix-ups in thanking the proper person for the right gift. I know, for my daughter was married this past year.

This is just an idea you may like to use. —A recent bride's mother

Dear Heloise:

For those mothers who wish to have their dampened clothes stay damp . . . they will find that a regular size plastic pillowcase with a zipper . . . will do the job nicely.

Just put your dampened clothes in the plastic pillowcase, roll it up to get the air out before zipping it . . . roll it over and over and over to release the air . . . then zip it up! You will find your clothes evenly dampened after a short period of time. —Dorothy Roberts

You are right, Dorothy! Who in this world would have thought of using plastic pillowcase covers to put dampened clothes in? They are heavier than the ordinary plastic bag.

You're a darling to write us. Bless you with all of my heart. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

For the women who use a slice of bread to hold the stuffing in chickens and turkeys . . . I would like to give them an idea.

Use stale bread, and before stuffing it into the fowl, rub

Wonder Girl Pleases Dad

SEOUL, Korea, UPI—There is a wonder girl in Seoul who has mastered the curriculum for the third grade and teaches her younger sister how to write and read.

The prodigy, Cho Soo-hyun, is the eldest child of a shoemaker. She began to utter such words as "papa" and "mama" when she was only five months old, her parents say.

Her father, Cho Sung-hyun, said he was surprised when the girl read the word "map" in a newspaper advertisement only a few days after her first birthday.

The father found out later that the little Soo-hyun had learned Korean letters over-hearing her 13-year-old baby sister read books.

Now she can read some Chinese characters and English alphabet and do sums. She teaches her two-year-old sister, Ki-hyun, who is said to be a budding genius also.

By deliberately surrendering a trick, West was able to capitalize on the road block which nature had created for South, the declarer in today's hand, and the latter was obliged to pay off to the brilliancy of his opponent.

South had the requirements for an opening notrump bid, and the presence of a five card major suit did not act as a deterrent. North was not interested in seeking an 11 trick contract, when a much shorter route to game presented itself, and he proceeded directly to three notrump.

West opened his fourth best diamond which was ducked in dummy and, when East played the ten, it held the trick. The later continued with the jack, and at trick two West was called on to make the key play of the entire deal.

The normal procedure, of course, would be to let the five hold for, if East has another diamond to lead. West's queen will drive out the ace on the next round. West reasoned that his partner probably did not have any more diamonds, however, for it seemed unlikely that South would open with notrump without a diamond stopper unless he had at least three small cards in that suit.

West was not especially concerned with the establishment of the diamonds, however, for the dummy's ace was not only a protective card for the declarer but, more important, a sure entry to North's club suit. If, for example, East and South each had two clubs, then there was no way for the latter to gain access to the dummy except in the diamond suit.

When the ten of diamonds was led at trick two, West overtook with the queen which was permitted to hold. West continued with the five and South was able to obtain a second trick in the suit by finessing North's nine, but he was not very happy with the present that had been given him. The club suit was now hopelessly blocked, and declarer wound up with only seven tricks.

The trick that West donated in diamonds came back with interest, since it deprived declarer of four club tricks. If South is left to his own devices, he can take six clubs and three side aces without surrendering the lead.

Today's Home

By MARGERY McELHENY

CHICAGO (UPI)—Uncle Sam has taken some of the guesswork out of reading a furniture advertisement.

For the first time in 32 years, federal laws that regulate furniture advertising have been completely revised.

The result: greatly increased consumer protection. The new rules forbid a number of unfair or misleading practices. They also require advertisers to give more complete information in many cases.

It is now illegal to say, for example, that an upholstered fabric made of a blend of nylon and natural fiber is nylon. Its components must be listed.

Synthetic imitation leather fabrics cannot be called leather, nor can an ad read "100 per cent genuine foam" cushions unless the cushions are latex foam rubber.

Strict provisions were included in the new set of rules for bait advertising.

The "bait" or leader item usually is a special buy to draw customers into the store. The psychology once a woman has gone to the trouble to get to the store in the first place, she will buy something.

Unethical merchants have used "bait" items to attract customers, but offered so few of them that the items allegedly were sold out when the consumer arrived.

The new bill forbids practices such as advertising a product when the store does not have enough on hand to meet expected demand, or refusing to show an advertised item, or refusing to deliver a product within a reasonable length of time.

The new rules cover additional practices, such as guarantees, warranties, trade-marks, bribery and deceptive pricing.

They are designed to guarantee that the consumer gets a fair deal. The new rules do not say that one type of material is better than any other type, but they do say that the consumer is entitled to know what he is buying.

When the rules were in the proposed stage, many manufacturers protested that they were needlessly complicated and would provide consumers with information they did not really need to know or were not interested in knowing.

Dear Abby--
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
You Did, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: Could you that were positively outrageous please tell me if I did wrong? My son had a serious back operation last March. When he started to feel a little better I brought a large stuffed rabbit about 22 inches tall to the hospital thinking it would cheer him up as it was during the Easter season. The rabbit did not look childish in my opinion. My son is 44 years old. He was embarrassed and insisted I take the rabbit home. Do you think this was a babyish gift or not? —LE MARS

DEAR LE MARS: Stuffed animals are usually for young children. Most 44-year-old men prefer live bunnies. A postoperative patient is in no mood to split his stitches over an Easter rabbit, so don't hold your son's lack of enthusiasm against him.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who would put a diaper on a nine-year-old boy and make him parade around the school yard for punishment for wetting his bed? This lady must be cracked. —LIVES ACROSS THE STREET

DEAR LIVES: This woman is more than "cracked." She is cruel and ignorant. Bed-wetting is a symptom of an emotional problem, and to humiliate a child for wetting the bed will cure nothing and only compound the problem. I urge you to call on this neighbor, even if you know her slightly, and try to convince her to take her boy to a doctor and to heed his advice.

DEAR ABBY: I laughed when I read the letter from the woman whose child didn't look anything like her or her husband which was a constant source of embarrassment to her. I went through the same thing many years ago. My hair was mossy brown and as straight as a poker. My husband was dark brown—what there was of it. Our son had a head full of red-dish-gold curls. My old man who showed up every now and then, had hair exactly the same color as my son's, and he looked more like the boy's father than my own husband. Some stories got back to me.

DEAR ABBY: I have a question. I finally had to change oil companies to shut up the neighbors. —COURT STREET, S. C. IOWA

DEAR ABBY: If there anything wrong with my girl friend and me meeting two very nice clean boys from school in the movies? All we do is meet them inside and sit with them. We don't hold hands or anything like that. We are 14 and so are the boys. —IMPORTANT QUESTION

DEAR IMPORTANT: There is absolutely nothing wrong with it. IF you first get your mother's approval.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM, COMFORTABLE, TOO

Los Angeles—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action bander. A featherbed panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It's so comfortable, but has such slimming strength it gives your figure everything that's possible with a girdle.

"Suddenly Slim" in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius Olga. They are available in our area at The Corset Shop 113 N. Tejon 634-1157.

Office Garden Blooms

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Mary, know an azalea from a begonia Mary — and all girls Friday now does your office garden grow?"

It wilts and withers, we'll bet. After all, the tutors in secretarial school don't touch on potted plants.

But it's time all women who make their living being dictated to bone up on green thumbery.

The Potted Plant Information Center (PPIC) says so, citing a survey indicating that more than 50 per cent of the millions of living plants in contemporary office gardens are cared for principally by the bosses' secretaries.

The trend to plants in offices is growing like Jack's beanstalk. There's been a 300 per cent increase of crocked plants in offices since 1954—if you like statistics.

The center had a few tips for dithered secretaries who don't or a daisy from a dandelion.

—Ask the office florist to supply plants in clay pots to guard against the two real worries of indoor gardeners: excessive moisture and high temperature. The clay dissipates excess moisture and leaches out harmful salts. They also keep plant roots 10 to 15 degrees cooler than non-porous containers. This air-conditioning system helps when office heat is turned up.

—Keep sun-loving flowering plants in a sunny spot. If you work in a place without windows, keep the plants under fluorescent light for a few hours each day.

—Don't subject the plants to direct drafts. They'll catch a common cold of plantdom. Rather, air them by opening a window in a nearby room when the sun is shining.

NEW YORK (AP)—A strong rally by rails spearheaded a stock market rally early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Industrials followed along giving the list a pretty good rise after two days of sharp decline.

The rails nudged to new records on average even during Tuesday's falling market.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 7 at 300.2 with industrials up 6, rails up 12, and utilities unchanged.

Steels, airlines, oils and copper strong along in the advance while utilities did little.

Tobacco and building materials were mixed.

Texas Gulf Sulphur met some renewed demand, opened on a 10,000-share block and held a 1-point gain in early afternoon.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.35 at 819.40.

Zenith and IBM were about 2 each. Polaroid and U.S. Smelting 3 apiece. Xerox was 10 1/2.

Prices moved higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP)—After the May contracts closed on a fairly broad range in spots, the grain futures market became quiet in late transactions today on the Board of Trade with prices little changed.

When trading ended at noon in the May, the wheat delivery was down four cents a bushel at the extreme. May soybeans finished almost three cents lower and rice more than two cents.

Carlot receipts today were estimated at wheat no cars, corn 41, oats 2, rye none, barley 16, soybeans 1.

Civil Rights Amendments Still Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republicans meet behind closed doors today to consider amendments to the provision of the civil rights bill that has evoked the most GOP criticism—equal employment opportunity.

After a session Tuesday on the 10 other titles of the bill, Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said he is confident some senators have been swayed to the side of closure.

"I believe we have satisfied a good many people on a good many things," he said.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic leader, made the same claim on his side after a party conference on the package of amendments worked out by Senate leaders with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Dirksen told newsmen, however, he does not think the Southern filibuster can be shut off before early June.

The title against job discrimination takes up about half of the package of amendments, devoted many of his proposed changes to this section.

He said in advance of today's caucus he is confident these amendments will meet substantially the objections to the provision as it cleared the House.

Red Diamond Men See Top Entertainment

Men of the Red Diamond Division of Ft. Carson were treated to some top-notch entertainment over the weekend when two complete Las Vegas, Nevada night club revues braved the sun, dust and high winds to come to the desert to perform for the soldiers of Exercise Desert Strike.

Performing on two flatbed trucks with the wind whipping through the microphone, Tony Pastor and his Band and comedian Danny Costello brought cheers from their GI audience with popular songs, lots of laughs and pretty girls.

Danny Costello brought down the "house" with his rapid-fire humor, but the real show stopper was pert Sue Wilson, who had the boys rolling in the cactus and splitting their sides with her pantomime routine.

After witnessing this top rate night club act, it was hard to believe that they could be followed, but in a special show, the group of Davis and Reese with the Cousins came on with laughs and songs that stamped them A-OK with the men of the 5th Division.

Comic Pepper Davis was all wound-up and just couldn't be stopped. His partner, Tony Reese, singer and fall man for Davis' slapstick, was superb. The back-up group, the Cousins, added music and their own special brand of merriment to bring out the good nature of the Red Devils.

Carol Lee and Vegas Vicki left a memorable impression on the 5th Division Red Devils.

All in all, it was rated as a show to be remembered. Some of the biggest acts in Las Vegas, radio and television performers, and fine "trouper".

USO SHOW — Tony Pastor is interviewed during the USO Show presented to the soldiers of the 5th Infantry Division (Mech) in the Mojave Desert. The USO Show was brought to the men from Ft. Carson while they are on Exercise Desert Strike and featured along with Tony Pastor, Vegas Vicki, Danny Costello, Bill Frazier, and Tony Pastor's brother, Stubby Pastor. The Exits, a four piece jazz and rock and roll group, provided the music for the show. Interviewing Tony Pastor is Bill Geasey, right, a Ft. Carson Public Information reporter who is a disc-jockey in Colorado Springs during his off-duty hours. (U. S. Army Photo) these acts were real instrumental in building morale for a hot, especially built for the productions of Gilbert and Sullivan.

Harriet Beals Help With Judges Manual

Harriet Beals, county clerk and recorder, and Virginia Goodsell, head of the election department of El Paso County, were in Denver Monday to assist with the compilation of a working manual for election judges.

The manual is to be published by the Legislative Council, and will be available immediately.

Mrs. Beals said she and Mrs. Goodsell made changes in a section of the manual on machine voting to cover all types of voting machines in the state.

The manual is based on information contained in the Colorado Election Laws.

Four Children Drown In River in Texas

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Four children, ranging in age from 10 months to 4 years, drowned Monday when their family's station wagon plunged into the Bosque River seven miles north of Waco.

The father, Airman 1C Rudy T. Davis, 22, Connally Air Force Base, said he was driving toward the river when the car's brakes failed and the station wagon plunged over a 15-foot bank into the river.

Davis said he and his wife, Edith, 22, escaped from the submerged car through an open window. Mrs. Davis was treated for shock and a leg injury.

Justice Fines Driver $200, Costs Tuesday

Jerome Ronald Roberts was fined $200 and costs in Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane's court Tuesday for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Roberts, 28, 1011 W. Cucharras St. was arrested Saturday on West Cucharras Street by Cpl. W. Finstrom of the police.

Aiding and abetting reckless driving on U. S. Highway 85-87 Saturday cost Bill W. Allen, 21, Ft. Carson $25 and costs. The officer was J. D. Morrissey of the state patrol.

State Patrolman J. Fred Henderson gave James W. Davis, 46, Lakeland, Fla. a ticket Thursday for misuse of plates. The incident happened at Monument and the defendant was fined $15 and costs.

Carolyn Moffitt Henderson, 29, 816 S. Skyway Blvd. was charged with following too closely on Ramona Ave. Friday and fined $10 and costs. The state patrolman was Arnold C. Ferrero.

Evelyn Grace Carter, 49, Penrose, paid a $15 fine and costs for failing to yield the right of way. State Patrolman C. W. Hubbard cited her Thursday on Colorado Highway 115.

Kenneth Arthur Mayer got a ticket from Police Officer R. E. Isham May 9 for driving without a valid operator's license. The violation happened on North Circle Drive and Mayer, 17, 3032 Drakestone Dr. was fined $6 and costs.

In Justice of the Peace James F. Quine's court Henry Lemoine Schwendeman, 36, 25 S. Corona St. received a $5 fine and costs for parking on the paved portion of the roadway. The incident happened Friday on Iowa Street and Ken Shiflet was the state patrolman.

Darrell Lee Clifford was fined $15 and costs for careless driving on the Garden of the Gods Road Saturday. Clifford, 24, 212 S. 11th St. was ticketed by State Patrolman J. E. McDaniel.

Armed Forces News

By STEVE TILLMAN

WASHINGTON — Special to the Gazette-Telegraph — Gen. Paul D. Adams of Strike Command has been given the responsibility to test and evaluate for suitability in joint operations the U. S. Air Force proposals for using aviation to enhance the combat effectiveness of Army units.

Back of this new directive is a decision to give the Air Force a chance to prove its contention that there is no need for the Army to have a second "air force" inasmuch as the Air Force can do the job.

At the same time, it has been learned that the Army is reviewing its 17 types of Army airplanes and helicopters with a view of making a reduction in the variety to seven types. Later these seven may be reduced to five.

Brig. Gen. James D. Hittle, USMC retired, Director of National Security and Foreign Affairs of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has spoken out in support of the retention of medical care and hospitalization for retired military personnel.

Speaking officially for the veterans, Gen. Hittle informed a subcommittee of the House that his organization believes that it is at least as important for the Government to fulfill its obligation as it is for the individual, and that the Government had an obligation to continue the hospital and medical care program for the retired personnel.

Gen. Hittle made it clear that while he was speaking in behalf of the military retirees he was also speaking in behalf of disabled veterans and widows.

all of whom are entitled to care on a space available basis.

The VFW has most unexpectedly taken the lead here in Washington in speaking up in behalf of the active and retired military personnel in contrast to the Reserve lobby and the several retired associations.

Navy's first all-nuclear powered force is now operational in the Mediterranean. The aircraft carrier Enterprise has been joined by the guided missile cruiser Long Beach and the guided missile frigate Bainbridge.

The Department of Defense expected to announce within a few weeks that pork chops may be dropped from the menus of the Armed Forces. In place of pork chops it is expected that men in uniform will be served more beef.

The Civil Defense program is rapidly taking on the appearance of a "political year pork-barrel" agency. The Pentagon is asking for $358 million and a payroll employment of 8,000 persons. The public relations section alone has 38 employees trying to sell the program. If trying to sell the program. If moving under the supervision of the Army the Civil Affairs — formerly Military Government section — of the Army will probably take over active operations. This will call for a large number of Reserve officers trained in Civil Affairs administration to come into the program.

There may be an increase in subsistence and in quarters allowances coming up soon for the Armed Forces. For enlisted men the subsistence increase may be as much as $20 a month. For officers it may be an increase of $25 a month. The Pentagon is reportedly "not interested" in proposal to combine the two allowances into the basic pay.

Married men will no longer be accepted for enlistment in the Air Force. First termers "up" for re-enlistment who are married must show that they are capable of supporting their dependents on their military pay.

Senate bill (S-2729) just introduced, would exempt from the income tax all military pay due a Service member who dies while on active duty.

Pressure from "voting organizations" such as the Veterans of Foreign Wars probably is the reason why Washington sources do not expect a Congressional study of commissaries.

More than 19 million public high school students will be graduated this year, an increase of 12.4 per cent over last year.

Jim Smith Establishes T-Bird Hitting Record

By TOM CUSHMAN

Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Jim Smith, who was a player without a position when Wasson's Thunderbirds started the baseball season just completed, concluded the campaign as the finest hitter in the five-year history of a school which has annually been one of the state's diamond powerhouses.

The multi-talented Smith, who was a standout halfback for the Wasson football team at 140 pounds last fall, earned all-city honors as a guard on the Thunderbird basketball squad, and now has capped a phenomenal junior year by becoming the first T-Bird to hit over 500.

A check of the scorebook in the past few days certified Smith's 1964 batting average as .509 on 28 hits in 55 trips. Included were five doubles, a triple, and six home runs. The Wasson star missed Darrell Greene's single season round-tripper mark of seven by just one — and three of Smith's blows sailed out of spacious Memorial Park where the Birds had not played home contests prior to this spring.

Smith and pitcher Bob K.

chis were the only T-Birds to enter their names in the prominent sections of the Wasson record book this year. Kuchis, who drew the assignments against the toughest opponents almost without fail, still posted an amazing 1.00 earned run average to eclipse the former record of 1.50 set by Tim Hamilton in 1961. Kuchis allowed only seven earned runs in 49 innings, gave up 40 hits, 10 bases-on-balls, and fanned 62.

Senior Bob Turner, who posted a 1.26 earned-run mark, was so under the old record when compiling a 4.40 record, and Clay Chambers just missed with a 1.34 earned run average. In addition Chambers led the team in victories with six and shared in the school's second no-hit game in history. He hurled the first five innings and Al Maynard the final two frames as the Thunderbirds whipped Pueblo South 9-0 without a safety midway in the campaign.

As a team, the Thunderbirds also eclipsed a pair of pitching records. The entire staff combined for an outstanding 127 earned-run average to easily beat the old standard of 1.90 set by the 1963 club. In addition Wasson pitchers allowed just 41 walks in 127 innings, also a new mark.

Offensively this team was less consistent than some of the past editions but still finished with an impressive overall mark. The hitters batted out 172 safeties in 306 at-bats for a .329 team average, hit 22 doubles, six triples and 16 home runs. The team also stole 72 bases.

Aside from Smith, individual leaders included Hal Miller who hit .414 and the team in runs, batted in with 26, and doubles with six, and triples with two. Kuchis who batted an even .400 and had eight extra base blows among his 12 hits, and John Wickham who had the most stolen bases with 16.

Despite the outstanding individual performances, the season ended in disappointment for the Thunderbirds. Three losses by a total of four runs in league contests derailed the local school of a third straight State Central League championship and another shot at the state AAA crown. Coach Bob Funk's last two teams had both finished as runner-up in the state tournament.

One costly blow was struck early in the season when Pueblo East shut out the T-Birds 2-0 in their first league start. Then came a string of nine straight victories which had carried Wasson to the top of the SCL standings before Centennial slipped past the local team, 5-4. The knockout punch was then delivered by lowly Trinidad as the Miners clipped the Birds 2-1 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Wasson soundly whipped those same three teams in other meetings. East was pounded 15-3, Centennial fell, 6-1, and Trinidad was blanked, 8-0. At one point during the season Wasson was ranked as the state's number one team for two straight weeks prior to the losses to Centennial and Trinidad.

The overall record for the campaign was 15-3, giving Funk an outstanding mark of 78-21 for his five years at the Wasson helm.

Giants Wild About Sanford; Old Friends Haunt Athletics

Broglio Also Wild For Cards

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Francisco Giants are wild about Jack Sanford today, but for being wild there's nothing in National League history that tops Ernie Broglio's performance.

Sanford, purposely held out of Monday's game against New York so he could open the key series against league-leading Philadelphia, responded with a superb 3-0 victory over the Phillies Tuesday night, that moved the Giants into the top spot by one game.

But if the Giants were cheering Sanford, the Chicago Cubs probably had to muffle their laughter over the plight of Broglio, the St. Louis right-hander who matched a league record by unworking three wild pitches in one inning.

Andre Rodgers started the wild seventh inning for the Cubs with a walk and proceeded to Wasson pitchers allowed just 41 walks in 127 innings, also a new mark.

Offensively this team was less consistent than some of the past editions but still finished with an impressive overall mark. The hitters batted out 172 safeties in 306 at-bats for a .329 team average, hit 22 doubles, six triples and 16 home runs. The team also stole 72 bases.

WENT A LONG WAY TO BEAT YANKIES—The way it feels to pitch 12 innings against the New York Yankees and get the win is expressed by Minnesota Twins pitcher Jim Roland in the dressing room. Roland gave up two runs on seven hits and his 12-inning overtime stint, the longest any pitcher has gone in the major leagues this season. He was relieved for a pinch-hitter in the 13th as the Twins scored five runs to gain a 7-2 win in the New York's Yankee Stadium. (AP Wirephoto)

CSC Nine Crushes Tigers As Locals Conclude Season

GREELEY — Powerful Colorado State College unloaded its heavy weapons here Tuesday as the perennial Rocky Mountain Conference champions crushed Colorado College 17-0 in a contest that marked the Tigers' final appearance as a member of the historic league.

Despite the defeat, CSC finished the season with a 12-7 record, the school's finest in a couple of decades. In addition to the 1946 conference mark, CSC secured the Tigers' second place in the RMC.

The awesome Bears, now move on to meet the Air Force Academy in a regional playoff series leading toward the NCAA baseball finals. The first game of the best two out of three competition is set for 2 p.m. Saturday at the Academy.

Loose fielding by the Tigers opened the gates Tuesday and CSC followed with a 15 hit barrage, including six for extra bases. Chief cannoner was Duane Banks who drove across four tallies on four hits. He socked a pair of homers and a double.

CC starter Jeff Sauer, the victim of faulty fielding during his four inning stint, only two of the five runs tallied by the Bears during that period were earned. The Greeley team then hopped on prize freshman Warner Reeser for seven runs in the following two frames and continues the onslaught against Bill Jankowski in the seventh and eighth.

Banks and Ron Vlasin did the early damage. After a pair of unearned runs had crossed in the second, Banks cracked a round-tripper in the fourth and Vlasin followed with a two-run blast over the fence. Banks' homer was on the wild side. CC left-fielder Steve Mills faded back to the barrier in left and got his glove on the ball — then tumbled over the fence and into the playing field while the ball stayed inside. Before Mills could scramble back over the fence, Banks had circled the bases.

Banks parked his second four-bagger in the Bears' sixth inning and this one came with two men aboard. But by that time the contest was out of reach.

While the Tigers were enduring these miseries in the field, they were also having problems at the plate. Bob Williams started for the Bears and gave up eight hits in his six innings of work but sharp work in the field forced CC to strand all five of its baserunners. Eddie Dyer then came on for the final

Air Force Darkhorse Entry In Track Meet This Weekend

What could turn out to be the dessert of the season — two events, especially since Col. saving the best for last — will orado's ace distance man, Bob Griffith, has missed most of the season because of injuries.

Lambert, a junior from Redmond, Wash., has cleared 6-8 1/2 in the high jump and has heaved the javelin 228 feet. He could be another double winner since CU's Leander Durley in the high jump is another sidelined by injuries.

Dave Dick has turned in several impressive times in the hurdles with a 14.3 in the 120 yard highs and a 37.8 in the 330 intermediate hurdles. However, he probably will be faced by Colorado's great Jim Miller, who last weekend was

Indy's Defending Champ Checks on Gas Mileage

NEW YORK (AP)—Parnelli Jones dropped into town to see his gasoline maker about his mileage.

He's getting something like 3 1/2 miles to the gallon right now, and he hopes to do a little better in this year's Indianapolis 500.

Jones plans to make only one pit stop during the Memorial Day 500 this year. He won the race last year with three stops. But some changes have been made.

For one thing, owner J. C. Agajanian had the oil tank moved inside the car so if it starts to spray a little oil there won't be the big argument there was last year.

You may remember that one of the complaints that oil leaked from Jones' car, and some thought he should have been flagged off the track.

Driver Eddie Sachs claimed he spun in some of Parnelli's spilled oil, and was knocked out of the race. They had a very warm discussion at a luncheon after the race, and wound up wrestling on the floor.

Only one punch was thrown, said Agajanian. Anyway, that won't happen again.

But the main switch is in the tires. At Indianapolis speeds—up to 190 miles per hour on the straightaways—tires lasted only 130 miles or so. That meant they had to be switched three times during the race. This year the tires will go halfway, or even more.

"I'm not sure you can ever

Colorado Kegler Leads Queens Tournament

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Ann Cowart of Littleton, Colo., led women bowlers Tuesday night in qualifying for the fourth annual Queens Tournament, which opens match play at Southdale Bowl Wednesday morning.

She rolled a 225-246-217-220-900 Tuesday for an eight-game total after two days of qualifying at 1,650. She edged Frances Cooke, beam of Jeffersonville, Ind., by one pin.

Third was Carol Shevlin, Buffalo, N.Y., with 1,639, and fourth was Mott Doherty of San Antonio, Texas, with 1,626.

Lowest qualifying score was 1,545.

Bob Unser Hits Wall With Novi

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The hard luck Novi picked up more woes at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Tuesday as the three-car team's unique four-wheel drive model blew an engine and slid 800 feet.

Driver Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., kept the car from hitting the wall in the southwest turn, but it meant more mechanical work for the Novi crew.

Both Unser and Jim McElreath of Arlington, Tex., driver of one of the other supercharged cars, were prevented from qualifying for the Memorial Day 500 mile race last week by mechanical troubles. Both hope to qualify during this weekend's final sessions to pick the 33-car starting field.

Unser has pushed the four-wheel drive Novi up to 155 miles per hour in practice this year.

The Novis have won the pole position twice, but have never been able to win the race.

Prep Star To Race In Relays

MODESTO (Calif.) (AP)—The nation's fastest high school miler steps into Olympic caliber competition Saturday at the California Relays.

He's Jim Ryan, a junior at East High School in Wichita, Kan., and he'll be racing against five four-minute milers including Tom O'Hara of Chicago Loyola and Daryl Burleson, former University of Oregon star.

Ryan raced the four laps in 4:06.4 last week, shattering the listed national prep mark. Burleson has run 3:57.5 outdoors this year and O'Hara clocked 3:56.6 indoors last winter.

Ryan is hoping this California appearance will be more fruitful than his last. He ran in a special prep indoor two-mile at San Francisco's Cow Palace Dec. 27 but fell on the first lap and never was in contention.

Jim Beatty and Al Oerter also joined the star-studded field according to announcements Tuesday from meet director Tom Moore.

Beatty, who has run little competitively outdoors this year, will run in the two-mile against New Zealand's Bill Baillie and Canada's Bruce Kidd.

World record holder Oerter will throw the discus in a competition bringing together every top thrower in the country.

The 100-yard dash matches Bob Hayes of Florida A&M, history's only 9.1 sprinter, against Darel Newman of Fresno State, who ran 9.2 two weeks ago in a race where two of the five watches read 9.1.

Pole vaulters will start at 15-6, so talented is the field. It includes John Pennel, the only man to ever clear 17 feet.

REGIONAL WINNERS — Those representatives of Skateboard Roller Club of Colorado Springs all brought back first place medals from the Rocky Mountain States Championships held last weekend in Greeley, competing against skaters from Colorado, Wyoming and Kansas. From left they are: Sharon and Roger Shamburg, Novice C Dance champions; Carla Dawson, a double winner in Juvenile A Free Style and Juvenile A Figures; and Fred Deane and Ethel Johnson, Junior Pairs. Winners not shown were Bill Krasner in Junior B Boys Free Style and Tony Genzies in Novice B Figures. In all, Skateboard captured 24 of 36 medals with nine gold, seven silver and eight bronze. There were a total of 460 contestants.

Palmer Readies for U.S. Open

DALLAS (AP)—Arnold Palmer was here Tuesday to play in an exhibition with Byron Nelson, Tony Lema and Bob Charles. He shot a one-under par 70, a score matched by Charles over the 6,600-yard Brook Hollow Golf Club course.

"Last year I felt I got ready too early, so this time I'm taking it easy and making sure particularly that I'm physically ready," said Palmer. He added at Oklahoma City.

Palmer has played in 21 tournaments, won two and finished in the first five places six times. He has taken down $41,673, which puts him only $2,625 behind the year's leader, Jack Nicklaus.

Arnie said that, from two to 10, he's tentatively set to meet at 4 p.m. each Wednesday. Frey changed for instance the city of Evansville had a 34-year-old ban against sports on Sunday which after Desert Strike.

Full Slate For Carson Golf Team

A full schedule of summer golfing activities was announced by Ft. Carson Golf Club pro, Robert Frey. The list includes four local matches, qualifying for the post Fifth Army tournament entry and six matches in the Rocky Mountain Interservice Golf League.

Play in the RMI will begin this Friday May 22, at the Air Force Academy course when Carson meets the ARADCOM team. Matches will continue during the summer at the Academy and Fitzsimons General Hospital courses in Denver.

Frey said the local matches will begin with a best ball team scratch and handicap meet, June 20 and 21. Play will be over 36 holes with two men competing for low score on each hole.

Other local tournaments will be the Ft. Carson men's championships July 9-10 and 16, the men's handicap championships, Sept. 1 to 20, and the mixed foursome championship, Sept. 7.

The men's championships will be open to all Ft. Carson personnel for the 72-hole medal play while the handicap championships will be match play. The mixed foursome championship will be over 18 holes.

Eliminations for the Mountain Post entry in the Fifth Army day tournament will be June 20 and 21. Eighteen holes will be played each day for a 72-hole total. Frey said there will be no specific request, however, for five open players within the precinct of the conference to rule on this particular.

The subject will be discussed during our Big Ten meetings at Evansville Thursday and Friday.

Nation's Top Stock Drivers Expected for CDR 250 Race

One of the top races on the United States Auto Club schedule this year has been set at Continental Divide Raceways, near Castle Rock, Colo., June 28. This will be the third national event of the season with the first two already run at Langhorne, Pa., and Indianapolis, Ind.

Promoter John Bostek of Ft. Collins has announced that a White pined up enough points to win the stock car division championship of the USAC standings in 1963 despite winning one of 16 late model races he entered. His single win was a 200-mile at Milwaukee in which Frey had the fastest qualifying time in a 60 Plymouth.

Total winnings for White on last year's circuit amounted to $18,800, with Frey coming in second with $11,400 and Nelson next with $15,000.

Frey won the most races on this circuit, taking the checkered flag four times in 13 races entered. Second among the winners was Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif., who won three of eight entered. Jones, of course, also won the Indianapolis 500 for larger racers last year.

Despite winding up third in point standings, Nelson was the No. 1 car owner in the stock car division as his two '63 Plymouths racked up more points than any other make of auto.

Bostek ended up in 12th place in the point standings last season, having competed in 11 races and placing in the top 19 six times.

Bostek, promoter of the "Continental 250-Miler" set for June at CDR, currently is negotiating with a nationally known firm company for the exclusive filming rights to the race. He also announced that local newscaster, Jack Finlayson, has been chosen as chief announcer for the race.

There will be a beauty contest to select the queen, and two aides for the event, conducted by the Fashion Bar at Colorado Springs. # Clay's 'Little Voice' Tells Him Floyd Next ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—World of the World. His retinue, in heavyweights champion Cassius Clay says the little voice that tells him when an opponent will fall now tells him his next rival will be ex-champion Floyd Patterson.

Clay said, however, that he doesn't always listen to the little voice.

"He'll fall in round one," the voice says. "If you don't get him in one, make it two," Clay added.

At a press conference at the Ghana Press Club, Clay said he was more serious than he would appear to be. He said he would defend his title early next year because of United States taxation and that he would welcome an arrangement enabling him to come to defend the title in Ghana. He said he would like to see the integration program in the United States.

Clay added comments about children being bombed in the position of Negroes in America. He said he was more serious than he would appear to be. He said he would defend his title early next year because of United States taxation and that he would welcome an arrangement enabling him to come to defend the title in Ghana. He said he would like to see the integration program in the United States.

Clay was wearing a white shirt with light blue stripes and a white jacket when he entered the club shooting. King Clay said, "No, I am free."

Miss Hard Has Turned Professional

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—Darlene Hard, the No. 1 ranked United States woman tennis player the past four years, has turned pro, thus putting another Californian, Billie Jean Moffitt, into the top spot.

Miss Hard announced Tuesday that she had taken a teaching job at the Tennis Ranch in Carmel Valley and would marry in the fall. She has been among the top 10 ranking women players in this country for 10 years and twice won the United States title at Forest Hills.

She was ranked No. 1 again early this year with Miss Moffitt of Long Beach No. 2 and Nancy Roney of Dallas No. 3. The latter pair move up a notch in the first round of the Wimbledon mixed doubles crown three times.

Darlene, from Montebello, Calif., started her competitive career at 13 by winning an age group title in the Southern California championships. She won the Pacific Southwest crown and Pacific crown last fall.

Emerson Opens Defense Of French Men's Crown

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP)—Roy Emerson of Australia opens defense of his men's singles title in the French Tennis Championships today. At the same time he'll be trying to force the second link in the chain of the Big Four ties.

Only Don Budge of the United States in 1938 and Rod Laver of Australia in 1962 have been able to win the Australian, French, Wimbledon and Forest Hills championships in the same year.

Emerson started off last year with the Australian and French crowns, but he didn't get to the finals at Wimbledon or Forest Hills.

Now, he says, "I don't even think about what I might be able to do. I just take one tournament at a time."

Since starting his tour this year for tournaments in the United States, the Caribbean, South America and now Europe, Emerson has won 10 championships and let only three slip away.

The early start in defiance of an Australian Tennis Association ban on play outside the country before April 1 cost Emerson his place on the Davis Cup team. But he professes to be unconcerned.

Emerson says he has no fear of growing state from too much continuous tennis before Wimbledon. And the atmosphere there is enough to pull out the best. You just can't have a let-down in that atmosphere."

Emerson meets Antonio Maglioli of Italy today in a second round match. He drew a first round bye.

Eugene Scott of St. James, N.Y., 10th seeded here, meets Italy's 14th, 64-60-63.

Mathis-Frazier Bout Tops On Olympic Trials Agenda

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Buster Mathis, an agile, springy mount of a man at 295 pounds, and Joe Frazier, the slaughterhouse smasher who weighs 100 pounds less, meet tonight in the climax bout of the Olympic Boxing Trials finals at the World's Fair.

Frazier, a fast, dynamic puncher who has knocked out his last six foes, is the favorite of most of the experts who saw the exciting semifinals in the 18,000-seat Singer Bowl Tuesday night.

The 20-year-old, 195-pound Philadelphia, stopped Clay Hodges, a 6-foot-4, 201-pounder from Torrance, Calif., in 2-46 of the second round. A fast left-right combination to the jaw dropped the 22-year-old Californian for seven and the referee stopped it seconds later.

Mathis, a 19-year-old, 6-3 AAU champion from Grand Rapids, Mich., gained a split decision over left-handed Tyrone (The Brute) Hollins, a 6-1, 196-pound Army champion from Coffeyville, Kan.

Although Buster admitted he had trouble with the southpaw style, he seemed to have deserved a unanimous verdict on the strength of his big second round alone. He shook up the soldier several times with his quick combinations and clubbing rights to the head.

Buster was faster, even though he wears an elastic brace to protect a trick right knee, and with his punches than Hollins. The soldier belted Buster some hard shots to his bulging belly and head but they disturbed the giant as much as a pebble flung at an elephant.

"I outpunched him," said Buster. "I'll have to pray harder against Frazier."

"I never fought a man this big," said Frazier. "There's a lot of him to hit. I'll be hitting."

One man thoroughly enjoying it all was master sergeant Fred Lenn, the Marine coach from Camp Pendleton, Calif., who will coach the Olympic 10-man team.

"There's a lot of good material here," he said. "He'll know the make-up of his team tonight when the 10 finals are run off."

There are several fine pairings on the card, including a welterweight showdown between Jesse Valdez, the 16-year-old National AAU champion from Houston, and Marine Maurice Friol, 23, the three-time interservice champion from Camp Pendleton.

Another small crowd of about 500 saw the Tuesday night show, although admission is free to visitors at the Fair. There's no charge for the finals either, which are scheduled to start at 7 p.m. EDT.

Arkansas Closes Gap In PCL Division Chase

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas closed the gap and resumed a virtual tie with Denver for the Eastern Division lead in the Pacific Coast League Tuesday, beating Portland 5-2 while Denver lost to Spokane 3-1.

In a game between the second place teams in the two divisions San Diego defeated Oklahoma City 7-5.

Elsewhere, Seattle gained a 6-4 victory over Indianapolis. Dallas posted a 5-4 win over Hawaii and Tacoma took an early lead and beat Salt Lake City 6-3.

Arkansas opened with a home run by Wayne Graham in the first inning, added two runs in the second on a double by Graham and concluded its scoring with two in the third on a double by Pete Corrales. Portland was held scoreless until the eighth as Gary Kroll pitched a seven-inning shutout.

Spokane rookie Larry Staab struck out 11 and held Denver to five hits. The score was tied at 1-1 in the ninth when Al Ferrara stopped trying for a hunt after two attempts and walked a homer to win the game for Spokane.

Four Oklahoma City errors helped San Diego score four unearned runs that enabled the Padres to take the lead and maintain it. All the game's runs came during the first six innings.

At Seattle, Hal Kistad tossed a four-hitter to lead the Rainiers to their third win in a five-game series with the Indians. The winning three runs in the fifth as Russ Gibson singled with the bases loaded. Then Barry Shetrone stole home and Bob Guindon scored on a wild throw attempting to catch Shetrone.

Dallas took its second game in a row over Hawaii behind six-hit pitching by Bill Linder. Dallas scored five in the second inning, which proved to be enough to put down Salt Lake City 6-3.

Giants' Pitcher Duffalo Taken Off Roster

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco pitcher Jim Duffalo was declared out of the Giant line-up indefinitely after a medical examination Tuesday showed the right-hander had suffered a cracked ninth rib and a strained muscle below his 12th rib.

Duffalo pitched three scoreless innings Monday against the New York Mets before leaving with a 1-1 count on the first batter in the fourth.

New Prizes Added to List In Lawn of Month Contest

Two new prizes have been offered to winners in the Lawn of the Month contest. Entries in the June contest are now being received at the Gazette Telegraph.

Western Seed Co. is offering three 3-lb. round boxes of grass seed and Colorado Garden Supply of Longmont, Colo., is offering two 20-lb. bag lengths of Gates Bermuda garden hose.

These prizes are being offered in addition to about $20 worth of lawn and rose fungicides by California Chemical Co., a one-year supply of fertilizers by the Manco Chemical Co., and an E-Z Sprayer and one sack of Turf Builder by Scott's.

Today was originally set for the deadline for the June contest, but due to the unusually dry weather and continued water rationing, the deadline has been extended to Wednesday, June 10.

The June contest is for the area west of South Nevada Avenue and south of West Pikes Peak Avenue and Manitou Avenue. This area includes the Broadmoor and Skyway Park areas, as well as Upper Skyway and all of Manitou Springs located in a southerly direction from Manitou Avenue.

Judging is now underway on entries for the May contest. Winners will be announced at a later date and prizes awarded shortly thereafter.

Monthly contests will be held in July and August, with the Sweepstakes contest scheduled for September. The first three winners of the four monthly contests are automatically entered in the Sweepstakes contest.

Lawns will be judged on the basis of their freedom from weeds, density of the grass, its breed improvement programs, color, purity of stand, grade of the soil, and level and height of cut.

CONTEST RULES

1. The Lawn of the Month contest is open to any homeowner in the area of the monthly contest containing 275 pounds of lawn.

All lawns registered must be maintained.

PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

Dr. H. H. Stonaker, professor of animal science at Colorado State University, will be principal speaker at the annual Beef Cattle Improvement Field Day and auction at Hesperus Saturday, May 23, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Dr. Stonaker, who is a Fulbright lecturer at the University of Cairo, will discuss "Beef Cattle Improvement Here and Abroad." The field day begins at 10 a.m. with the sale of 65 performance-tested Hereford bulls set for 1 p.m. at CSU's San Juan Basin Branch Experiment Station.

Colorado Crop Production Survey Started

DENVER — Colorado ranchers and farmers this week were urged to cooperate in the 1964 survey of Colorado crop production being conducted by the Colorado Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Donald B. Jones, agricultural statistician with the service in Denver, said many Colorado farmers and ranchers will receive a survey card around May 27. Titled "June 1964 Acreage Survey," the survey form is the primary source of information which the Crop and Livestock Service uses in predicting the acreage of crops which will be harvested this year.

The material also will serve as the basis of the official U.S. Department of Agriculture estimate of 1964 crop production to be released in July. The report will be the first release of the season on production prospects for the major crops in Colorado.

Accuracy of these crop forecasts depends greatly on the cooperation of farm operators in this survey. Farmers are urged to return the crop questionnaire as soon as possible.

Farmers and ranchers cooperating in the survey will receive a complete report of the official estimates about July 13.

Wheat Acreage Abandoned Due To Wind Damage

The week that ended May 9 saw more winter wheat acreage abandoned in southeastern Colorado due to wind damage. The number of acres of sugar beets that will have to be replanted also increased considerably.

Soil moisture became extremely short in the southeast and army worms caused additional stress to drought-parched fields. There was some moisture — accompanied by hail in many cases — but it came too late to help some portions of the crop.

Acreage which has not yet been abandoned was helped to a degree by the moisture, although there wasn't much of it. In other areas winds have caused the crops to suffer but no acreage has been abandoned. Winter barley was also hurt by the winds and blowing dust.

Grazing land was still limited during the week and growing more so. Supplemental feeding was unusually heavy for this time of the year. Rye and excess wheat acreage provided limited grazing but most cattle were moved from the fields which were left for grain.

Livestock were in fair condition but were late in making spring gains. Calving and lambing were in the final stages and complete in some localities. Shearing of sheep and lambs was completed in some areas.

During the week the following precipitation was reported in the drought area:

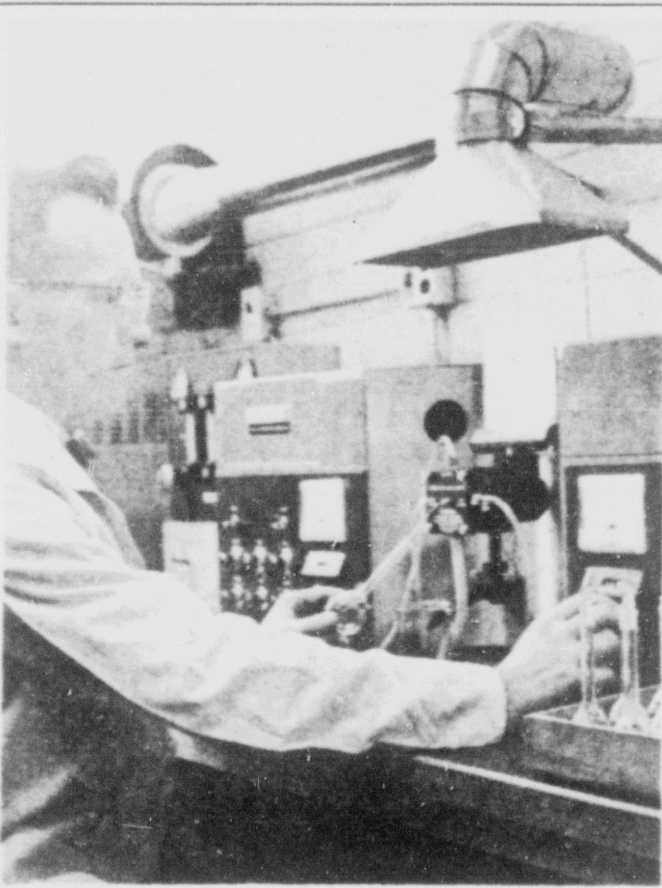

Colorado Springs: 0.1; Pueblo: 0.3; Canon City: 0.1; Walsenburg: 0.1; La Junta: 0.1; Lamar: 0.1; Kit Carson: 0.1; Limon: 0.6; Burlington: 0.6; Parker: 0.7; Kassler: 0.3; Cheesman: 0.3; Salida: 0.3; Del Rio: 0.3; Alamosa: 0.3; Del Norte: 0.3; Saguache: 0.3; Gunnison: 0.3; Aspen: 0.3; Leadville: 0.7; Antero Reservoir: 0.1.

South Korea Students Clash With Policemen

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Students protesting the Japanese South Korea normalization talks clashed with police in demonstrations at Seoul and Tokyo today.

About 1,000 left-wing Japanese students staged a sitdown and ignored police orders to disperse. Police in Seoul used tear gas to disperse about 1,000 students from 10 universities in the capital. More than 50 students were arrested. Police beat the students with fists and the students threw rocks at the police.

MEASURES ELEMENTS—Dr. W. L. Lindsay of the Colorado State University agronomy department, operates the institution's new atomic absorption spectrophotometer. The instrument rapidly measures small amounts of certain elements in agricultural and biological samples. At CSU it has been used to determine the content of zinc, iron, manganese, copper, calcium, magnesium and cadmium in soils, plant tissues, animal tissues, rocks, and drainage waters. (CSU Photo)

New Instrument Speeds Chemical Analysis at CSU

FORT COLLINS — An atomic absorption spectrophotometer that can detect 35 chemical elements has been installed and is being used in research and analysis of unknown chemical samples here at Colorado State University.

According to Dr. W. L. Lindsay, soils expert of CSU's agronomy staff, around 1,000 analyses have been made with the spectrophotometer each month since its installation. Greatest use by the agronomy department has been in micro-nutrient research involving the analysis of soils and plants for zinc, iron, copper, manganese, magnesium, and calcium.

Measurements that once took weeks and involved a dozen tedious steps can now be done in 30 seconds from a prepared solution.

Dr. Lindsay explains the operation of the instrument this way: "It measures the amount of light absorbed by any given chemical element. Since each element has absorption bands separate and distinct from other chemical elements, this technique is a valuable analytical tool."

A test sample is dissolved and the solution is atomized into a flame. A light source of the characteristic wavelength of the element being examined emits light that is directed through the flame. The light which is not absorbed is measured by a photoelectric cell.

For example, if zinc were being determined, the light characteristics of the element zinc would be emitted. As this light passes through the flame it can be absorbed only by zinc atoms.

The Model 303 Perkin-Elmer Atomic Absorption Spectrophotometer is located in CSU's Plant Science Building. Its purchase was made possible through the CSU Research Foundation by an equipment grant from the National Science Foundation.

The study, a joint effort by the Colorado State Forest Service and the CSU Agricultural Experiment Station, was conducted at the wood utilization laboratory at the CSU campus.

Lumber used in the study was selected at random by four different sawmills in Colorado, says Charles Newlon, marketing and utilization forester for the State Forest Service.

The boards were visually graded for strength properties, using Western Pine Association specifications, then graded on a stress rating machine by Potlatch Forests, Inc. at their Kamiah mill in Idaho. The machine rated the lumber 77 per cent stronger than previous visual grading for strength.

Actual strength tests conducted at the CSU laboratory confirmed the accuracy of the machine rating method, Newlon states.

Additional research at the CSU wood utilization laboratory demonstrated that trusses constructed of Engelmann spruce lumber had strength qualities higher than required by current design values. Nail holding capacity of the native lumber was 38 per cent higher than demanded by National Design Specification standards; and floor systems made from this material had strength almost double that required by Western Pine Association specifications.

"Colorado Engelmann spruce lumber is as good as any other for construction," Newlon states, "and should be less expensive for Coloradans since it does not have to be shipped long distances."

Widefield Riders Plan Point Show on Sunday

Widefield Riders, Inc. will hold the club's first gymkhana for points Sunday. An open gymkhana will be held June 14. This will be a show approved by the Central Colorado Horseman's Association.

The next general meeting of the club will be June 4.

Fountain Valley Holds Annual Gymkhana Day

The Fountain Valley School held its annual Alumni Day and nineteenth Gymkhana Day on May 16 and 17.

Alumni from Colorado Springs, Denver and points as distant as Salt Lake City, Reno, New York and California assembled at the school on Saturday to join the faculty for lunch in the Hacienda patio. In the afternoon they challenged the graduating class in a soft-ball game, after which they met for cocktails in the Green Room at the Broadmoor Hotel. They were then hosts there at dinner to the Class of 1964.

The Gymkhana, on Old "82" Field, began at 9:30 on Sunday. The Grand Entry, made up of approximately 225 horses and riders, marched on to the field at 1:30 and the show included not only the finals of the usual gymkhana features such as stake barrel and bending races but also a drill team contest, jumping and tilting. Contestants were not only Fountain Valley students but also many horse devotees in the Pikes Peak area.

Among the visitors were Lt. Gen. Gordon B. Rogers of Sedalia, Colorado who took the salute and whose stepson, Kirk Kimball, won the tilting contest. Mrs. J. B. Jenkins of Rye, N.Y.; Mrs. A. N. Spencer of Carrizozo, N.M.; Mrs. F. W. Victor of Phillipsburg, Montana; and Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Ritchie of Texas and Larkspur, Colo., were also present.

Results of the show are as follows, with winners being listed in the order in which they placed.

CALF ROPING — Ed Rhodes, Keith Atkinson, Dick Tate, Dale Allee.

RIBBON ROPING — Dick Yates, Sonny Spurlock, Keith Atkinson, Hank Gallegos.

REINING CLASS — Helen Williams, Fritz Wampler, Judy Jubb, Sharon Jubb.

CALIFORNIA POLE BENDING — Helen Williams, Fritz Wampler, Eldon Butler, Donna Wilgen.

MEN'S BARREL RACE — Eldon Butler, Fritz Wampler, Dennis Hall, Ronnie Mayer.

JUNIOR BARREL RACE — Donna Wilgen and Karin Benschberg, tie; Margaret Hammond, Nona Morris.

WOMEN'S BARREL RACE — Helen Williams, Carol Wishon, Carol Hammond, Sharon Jubb.

SENIOR WESTERN PLEASURE — Fritz Wampler, Carolyn Delon, Terry Richardson, Roberta Joyal.

EQUITATION, HUNTER SEAT — Dianne Galt, Steve Fitzpatrick, Michele Weaver, Richard Kimball.

JUNIOR JUMPING — Nichole Weaver, Dianne Galt, Steve Fitzpatrick, Diana Hoke.

HORSEMANSHIP, CLASS A — Sally Clark, Margaret Hammond, Judy Jubb, Diana Hoke.

HORSEMANSHIP, CLASS B — Sherry Jubb, Sally Vrooman, Susan Johnson, Tom Ingerick.

HORSEMANSHIP, CLASS C — Debbie Hoke, Vicki Vrooman, Linda Wilkinson, Mike Jubb.

TRAIL HORSE CLASS, JUNIOR — Patricia Young, Judy Jubb, Vickie Vrooman, Diana Hoke.

Winner in the Gymkhana Team Competition was Fountain Valley School, which came out with 42 points. Associated Independent Riders, high school boys from Cheyenne, Wason and Widefield, received 12 points and Colorado Rocky Mountain School of Carbondale scored no points.

Jay Parsons was high point winter and gymkhana champion. Parsons is a 1964 graduate of Fountain Valley School and is from Cody, Wyo.

Winner of the Okie Award for best conditioning and training of horse during gymkhana season went to Dave Victor, class of 1964, Fountain Valley School, of Rocking Chair Ranch, Phillipsburg, Mont.

Sumner McKnight of FVS, wood utilization laboratory demonstrated that trusses constructed of Engelmann spruce lumber had strength qualities higher than required by current design values. Nail holding capacity of the native lumber was 38 per cent higher than demanded by National Design Specification standards; and floor systems made from this material had strength almost double that required by Western Pine Association specifications.

"Colorado Engelmann spruce lumber is as good as any other for construction," Newlon states, "and should be less expensive for Coloradans since it does not have to be shipped long distances."

Pikes Peak Quarter Horse Show Scheduled June 19-20

The 1964 Pikes Peak Quarter Horse Show will be held June 19 and 20 at Penrose Stadium.

The show is open only to registered Quarter Horses and all registration certificates will be checked. Points toward official American Quarter Horse Association (AQHA) Champion and Performance Register of Merit will be awarded at this show except for non-point events.

The show is sponsored and endorsed by the Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo, the Pikes Peak Range Riders, the Pikes Peak Quarter Horse Association, Inc., and the Central Colorado Horsemen's Association.

It is approved by the AQHA, the Rocky Mountain Quarter Horse Association and Western States Cutting Horse Association.

The Top Horse trophy will be donated by the Exchange National Bank to the horse which has placed in and won the most money in halter and two more performance events.

Maurice Laycock of Cheyenne, Wyo., will be the judge. John Mariani of Greeley will act as announcer and Hugh Bennett will be arena chairman. L. A. McElhinny will be ring steward.

The show will open Friday, June 19 at 9 a.m. First event will be the first go-round in open cutting which offers a purse of $200. The second go-round of open cutting will be held immediately following.

Friday at 1:30 p.m. the Pikes Peak Invitational Team Tying contest will be held with a purse of $200. The purse will be donated by the Agricultural Committee of the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce.

Trophies donated by Jon Frost, president of the PPQHA. Each contestant may enter twice as long as it is with a different partner.

Friday at 8 p.m. horses will compete in performances classes. Show management will accept the entry of any new or old Appendix registered horse in any performance class even though that horse may not be allowed to show at halter because of registration requirements.

Events in the performances classes include open cutting, featuring the four top horses from the first go-round; junior calf roping, junior reining, Western pleasure horse, open jumping, pouissance class.

Halter classes will be held Saturday, June 20 at 9 a.m. Stallions, mares and geldings in either the old or new Appendix are eligible to participate through two year olds. Stallions and mares above two years old must have a registration number. Geldings in the old or new Appendix may continue to show.

Event No. 9 will be for mares to be divided into five classes of mares foaled in 1963, six ribbons, mares foaled in 1962, six ribbons, mares foaled in 1961, six ribbons, aged mares, six ribbons, grand champion mare trophy donated by American Quarter Horse Association, Amarillo, Texas.

The stallion event will also be in five classes, the same as the mares with six ribbons to be offered in each of the classes and presented 100 pounds of grain to each of the following: High Point Senior, Fritz Wampler, high point junior, Donna Wilgen, High Point Rider of Gymkhana.

Combined weight of the earthworms under a pasture may equal or exceed the weight of high point junior, Donna Wilgen, the sheep which the field supports.

Properties involved in the exchange were the Calvin Ranches of Fountain and a portion of the Norris T. Cross Ranch at Guffey, Colo.

Both Calvin and Norris are well known in the Pikes Peak Region as breeders of Quarter Horses and beef cattle. Norris is also owner of the famous Quarter stallion Poco Poco.

Negotiations for the exchange were handled by Orrell Larson, Realtor of Smartt Realty Co., 1502 E. Bijou St.

Combined weight of the earthworms under a pasture may equal or exceed the weight of high point junior, Donna Wilgen, the sheep which the field supports.

Stone 'Miracles' Built For Dream Woman's Love

Mysteries and legends as old as the Pyramids face sight-seers at Coral Castle, a short distance south of Miami, Fla., on U.S. Route 1.

The American Automobile Association's Florida Tour Book describes it as "a bizarre reproduction of a castle atop a coral reef."

High stone walls surrounding the "castle" have cloaked the work of a solitary recluse with a veil that not even death itself has been able to brush aside.

Working alone with primitive tools fashioned from bits of wood and old automobile parts, Ed Leedskainin worked night and day to produce miracles in stone that still astound visiting scientists and engineers. Springs and bars served as his levers, gears were fashioned crudely into pulleys, and a ratchet device was built on a wooden frame. His brace and bit was the crank from a Model T.

Rough-hewn from native coral rock, the castle itself is made of 243 tons of material. Largest single piece weighs nearly nine tons, while the average stone in the Great Pyramid of Khufu at Gizeh in Egypt, dragged into position by hundreds of slaves, weighed only a little more than two tons.

It was truly a labor of love for the slender, 97-pound Latvian hermit who struggled to furnish a home for the girl of his dreams — a girl he never met. The work continued 30 years after World War I.

To guard his secrets, he hid much of the work of transporting and fitting the pieces into place at night.

Many of his more massive productions are on the east wall surrounding the courtyard. There is a 23-ton Crescent of the East, 18-ton carvings of the planets Mars and Saturn and a great obelisk, weighing 28½ tons. The last is taller than the Great Upright at Stonehenge, England.

The northern wall, which contains a single stone weighing 29 tons, is topped by a Polaris telescope weighing 28 tons and rising 25 feet into the air. Tubular drillings with bisecting wires center this telescope on the North Star. A sundial, bowl-shaped rather than the traditional flat style, accurately marks the hours and minutes and adjusts itself to the seasons.

Astronomers and mathematicians have expressed amazement that such things could be built by a person with little more than a fourth or fifth grade education. One of the largest carvings in the castle itself is the Throne Room which the recluse fashioned for his "Queen to be." There are two large "thrones." A child's stone cradle is so delicately balanced it rocks smoothly and evenly. A Grotto of the Three Bears can be seen complete with stone furnishings fashioned after those mentioned in the fairy tale.

Many additional interesting objects are found in the courtyard. A large table shaped like the State of Florida has a flower bowl indentation representing Lake Okeechobee. Another table is heart-shaped. Surrounding great stone chairs include a perfectly balanced rocker.

Modern bank vault doors pale by comparison with the ease with which a two-ton turnstile and a 9-ton gate, built into the surrounding wall, pivot at the touch of a finger.

Few people saw the inside of this unusual establishment until after Leedskainin's death in 1951, believed due to pneumonia. At that time Coral Castle was opened to the public. Admission charge is 90 cents for adults, with children under 12 admitted free.

Most Farm Operations Are Family

FORT COLLINS — Although many Colorado farms are increasing in size, most of them are still family businesses with the operators and their families doing most of the farm work, states Ken Jameson, Colorado State University extension farm management specialist.

Jameson's statement is based on information from a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture report which indicates more than 70 per cent of all national farm marketings in 1959 (the year of the last census of agriculture) came from family farms. In 1944, family farms accounted for 66.5 per cent of all farm marketings.

The report defines family farms as those businesses in which the operating families are risk-taking managers who do most of the farm work. On the average, the labor force of a family farm is less than 1.5 man years. Therefore, farms using less than 1.5 man-years of labor are considered family farms in the USDA report.

In Colorado, the 1959 data indicates the state's 26,145 commercial farms marketed more than $374 million worth of agricultural products. Over 48 per cent of this total dollar value came from commercial farms with sales of less than $40,000. About 90 per cent of the farms in the state fall into this less than $40,000 of sales category.

On the national scene in 1959, 40 per cent of the farms with sales of $40,000 or more were also family operations. In the Corn Belt and Northern Plains, family farms accounted for three-fifths of the sales from these commercial farming operations and one-fifth of the sales of farms with marketings of $100,000 or more. For all farms, 70 per cent of the marketings were from family operations.

Even though average size of farms is increasing, most agriculture is not "big business," Jameson explains. The increasing size of farms is often interpreted as an increasing predominance of the factory system or large corporate business in agriculture.

This conclusion is in error, Jameson continues, because the reduction in number of farms occurs mainly in the extremely small and inadequate units with less than $2,500 in sales. The growing point in agriculture is the larger commercial family farm rather than the larger-than-family farm, the extension farm management specialist concludes.

LONG-BEARING TREE—This gnarled old apple tree is the only one left of an apple orchard that was planted in the early days of Colorado Springs at what is now 515 N. Nevada Ave., the property of Philip Child, left. According to Mrs. J. R. Stewart, right, the name of the man who planted the orchard has long since been forgotten. His small daughter who played under the tree, Mrs. Stewart says, is now a woman in her late 70's. The tree continues to put out new branches and bursts into bloom each May. "In the fall," Mrs. Stewart says, "it produces small green apples, a temptation to even small boys who pass by." (Gazette-Telegraph Photos)

Many Noxious Weeds Are Not Native to U.S.

FORT COLLINS — Most of our troublesome weeds, especially those classified as noxious, are not native to this country, and have been introduced on our continent through impure seed, contaminated hay bedding, packing materials and other ways, explains Colorado State University Extension Weed Specialist Eugene Heikes.

Russian thistle, undoubtedly the most list of introduced plants that quickly became weed problems, Heikes continues. About 90 years ago contaminated flaxseed was imported from Russia and planted in South Dakota. Today, we are harvesting way at 9 a.m. with western timeweed as a result of that planting.

By 1890, 20 years after its introduction, Russian thistle was reported in 16 states and 13 Canadian provinces. Russian thistle has now spread throughout the United States.

Canada thistle is another good example of an imported plant that went bad. This plant, a native of Europe, western Asia and northern Africa is believed to have been introduced into Canada by early French settlers as an impurity in seed.

It was then brought into the U.S. from Canada with hay for entry fees. Ribbons will be General Barzoyne's army. It is awarded. All western open northern half of the nation and a jackpot will be awarded. All is proclaimed one of the most serious weed pests known to cent.

Russian Cows No Longer Entitled to Daily Bread

Privately-owned cattle, and those who own them will bear the brunt of a new law recently imposed in the Soviet Union by Premier Khrushchev.

This law, according to a report in the Cooperative Consumer, is divided into two parts: one aimed at placing limitations on the number of privately-owned cattle and the other providing heavy penalties for any cow owner who feeds it bread. The cow owner who is convicted of feeding this animal bread may receive up to three years of corrective labor and may lose his cow to boot.

These laws were passed at a time when the Soviet Union faces its fifth consecutive mediocre harvest. While Khrushchev suggested anti-cow laws early in 1963, he apparently is not yet ready to do away totally with private ownership of cows. But his laws will make it impossible for bossy to wax fat on bread.

The privately-owned family cow has long been a thorn in the side of Soviet leaders. Cooperative Consumer reports: "The cow, together with the little private garden or kitchen plot attached to the dwelling of a Soviet collective farmer, is an outstanding anomaly of the Communist system — a little island of restricted free enterprise in an ocean of Communism. It was legalized in 1935 in order to allay peasant discontent, following the collectivization drive."

Allocations for land for these small plots vary between 1/4 hectare and 1/2 hectare, or about 1/4 to 1/2 acre. Each household is permitted also to keep not more than one cow and two young cattle, one sow with litter, up to 10 sheep and goats, an unlimited amount of poultry and rabbits, and not more than 20 peaches.

Despite these allowances, the national average for privately-owned stock per collective farm family is today three-fourths of a cow or sheep and one-third of a hog. It is from this total that the Soviet Union receives 40 per cent of its meat supply, the magazine reports.

While bread is not recommended by dairy specialists as the principal item in a cow's diet, they do recommend grain for food. But the collective farmer in the Soviet Union doesn't grow his own grain. He may get some from the collective after the state takes its share, but that isn't enough to take care of his family and his cow. So, instead of feeding grain to his animal, he feeds her his cheapest substitute he can find: bread.

Since the Soviet discourages the home baking of bread, and enforces it by restricting the amount of flour each family receives, the bread fed to cows is purchased from the state. Since bread forms a major part of the Soviet diet, its price is high. For example, a loaf of bread costs 10 kopeks, or 10 cents.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban government said Cuban Armed Forces Ministry on May 5 a cache of arms and equipment was found by a Cuban fisherman in Las Uvas Key, off the north coast of Pinar del Rio Province.

Havana radio reported the ministry warned ships and aircraft that the area from San Pedro Beach, in Cabañas, to the arms and explosives were Pinar del Rio Province should be avoided between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Ships were warned that usual methods of infiltration navigation would be dangerous directed by North American espionage agencies.

Russians May Get Algerian Atomic Base

PARIS (AP) — The paper Figaro said today that the Soviet Union and Algeria reportedly have signed an agreement providing for a Soviet nuclear submarine base in Algeria.

The conservative paper said: "According to certain observers informed of North African affairs, the agreements recently concluded between Khrushchev and Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella in Moscow included a series of secret protocols. One, at least reportedly provides for the installation of a Russian nuclear submarine base in Algeria."

The Figaro dispatch was written by its correspondent in Madrid. It gave no further details.

Ben Bella recently visited that the Soviet Union had granted Algeria financial and technical aid.

Prof Provides Research for Pocket Book

Much of the research for a new guide to "The Rocky Mountains" was prepared by Dr. Richard Beidleman, associate professor of zoology at Colorado College.

The pocket-size book, published by Golden Press of New York, contains more than 450 photographs, drawings and maps in full color.

Prof. Beidleman prepared major portions of four of the book's seven chapters. The recently published guide contains 160 pages.

Chapters prepared by the Colorado College professor include: Here are the Rockies, Rocky Mountains Today, The Good Old Days, and What to See and Do.

Prof. Beidleman, author of numerous scientific and scholarly articles, is director of Colorado College's three summer science institutes sponsored by the National Science Foundation. A member of the faculty since 1957, he holds a Ph.D. from the University of Colorado.

County Receives 1965 Vehicle License Plates

Vehicle license plates for 1965 were received by El Paso County Tuesday.

Eleven workmen, including seven from the county jail and four from the Colorado State Prison at Canon City began unloading the plates at the County Office Building shortly before 8 a.m. Tuesday.

In all, 213,070 plates weighing 86,357 pounds, were delivered on three tandem trailers. The plates were packed in 2,188 cartons.

The shipment included 80,000 sets of two plates per set for passenger cars, 13,000 sets for stake trucks, 5,000 single plates for trailers.

The plates were unloaded from the trailers by means of hand-operated conveyors, stacked on hand trucks and carried to the basement of the County Office Building for storage. Unloading and stacking was done under the supervision of Elizabeth Van Horn, supervisor in charge of motor vehicle registration for the county.

The license plates were stored in the order by which they will be sold, with the largest number, which will be sold last, being unloaded first.

Mrs. Beals said the county will be permitted to submit a supplementary order later this year when it is possible to determine the need for more license plates for next year. Additional plates, over and above the regular and supplementary orders, will be obtained from other counties having an over-supply, she said.

Cultural Society To View Color Slides

O. H. Gardner will show colored slides on his recent trip to Germany at the meeting at 7:30 p.m. May 29 of the Germany-American Cultural Society. The meeting will be held at Rastall Center on the Colorado College campus.

Volklieder singing will also be part of the program.

Scholarships will be awarded by the society to the following CC students, Miss Joyce Eaton, Miss Sue Hurst, Miss Leslie Otto and John Maynard. These students are taking part in the summer school "Das Deutsche Haus" to better themselves in the German language.

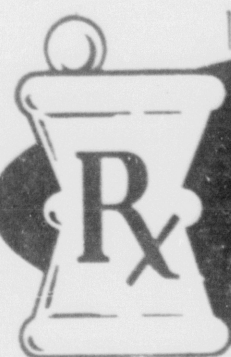

Miss Kathie Bevin and Miss Alice Lamar, students of the 1963 summer school, are leaving for Germany to complete their studies in the German language.

Electronic Vote Analysis Will Be Provided

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press and NBC News entered into an agreement today to provide to Associated Press members "NBC's electronic vote analysis of elections."

The announcement was made jointly by William R. McAndrew, executive vice president in charge of NBC News, and Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press.

The National Broadcasting Co. service, called "electronic vote analysis," utilizes a bank of RCA 301 and RCA 3301 computers to furnish extensive data explaining and comparing the results in the presidential election—nationally and by state—and in all gubernatorial and senatorial races. The material will be used by AP in its daily news report to its 8,000 members and subscribers around the world.

The Associated Press will continue its traditional comprehensive vote tabulations of all races in all states separately from NBC's tabulation.

"Use of our EVA data by the world's foremost wire service is testimony to its effectiveness, as demonstrated in NBC News coverage of the Oregon primary elections last Friday," McAndrew said.

"This analysis of voting trends and speedy interpretation of returns brings to Associated Press members the advantages of the latest electronic techniques to supplement The Associated Press's basic task of tabulating election results on local and national levels," Gallagher said.

To gather this information manually would take months of work and tens of thousands of man hours," he added. "By use of electronic vote analysis this information will be available election night."

Although the agreement with The Associated Press is exclusive, NBC News may, at its discretion, provide the same service directly to AP newspaper members.

The analysis is based on a mass of detailed information that has been prestored in the computers, including all vote histories and data on "tag areas." The tag areas are precincts, wards and counties that have been selected by NBC News to represent the political behavior pattern of groups within an electorate.

The computers can provide differential analysis, showing any deviation from the norm, as, for example, that the Eastern states are voting differently from another group of states or the country as a whole. They can compare results in any part of the country with its previous history or with another area.

The data is transmitted by teletype lines directly from the computers without human intervention. However, key members of the NBC news team are allowed to add news values to the differentials by teletyping information directly to the computer's memory while it continues to analyze and tabulate.

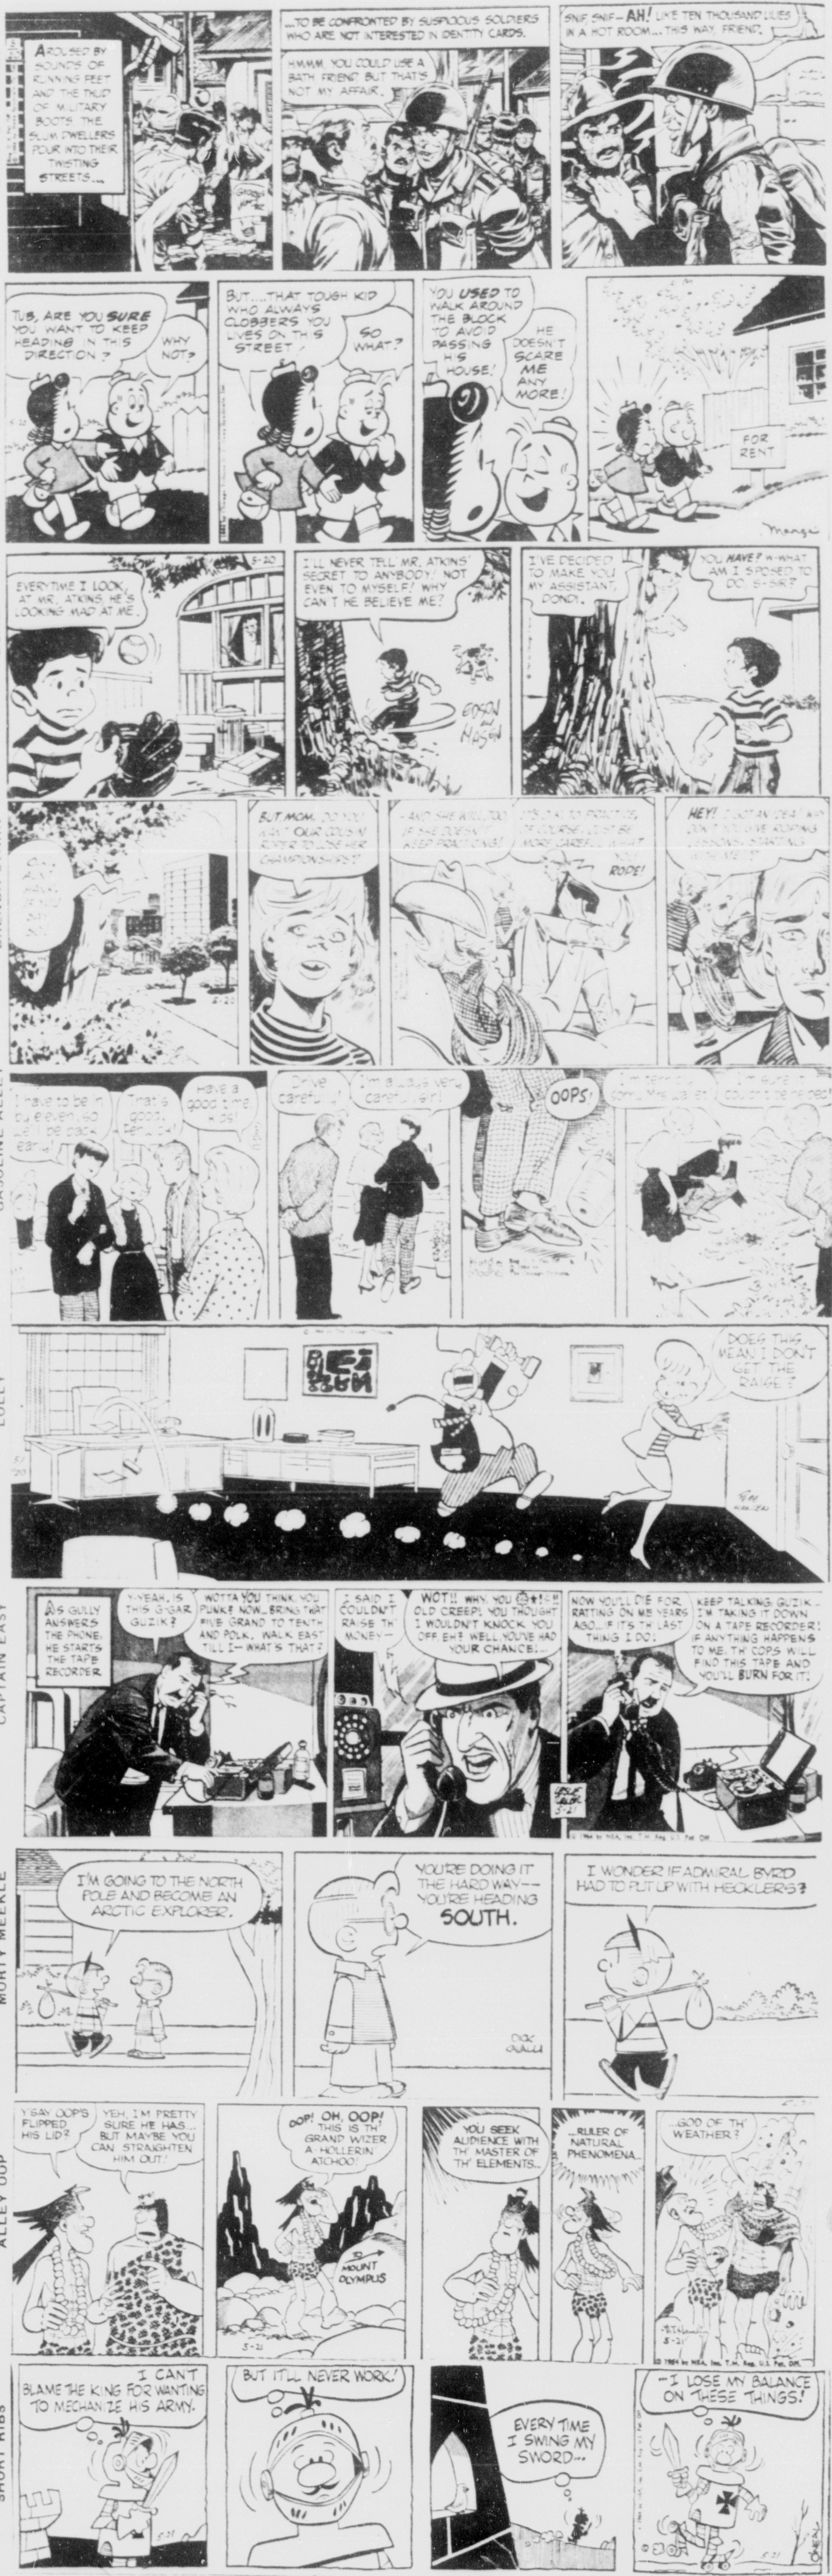

The computers print out the information in English, as, for example, that one candidate "is running behind in Chicago because of the heavy Negro vote."

Three Young Mocking Birds Adopt Poodle

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — It's Moore described relations between the dog wanting them to be more than the birds want. Shalley and the three young mocking birds the dog has adopted.

That's the way Mrs. Orban T. Shalley took the fledglings to raise two weeks ago when they were about a week old. Their real mother had abandoned them.

Fed a diet of soft-scrambled eggs, egg yolk, ground meat and bread soaked in milk, they flourished. Shalley, who has never been a mother, took care of them as if they were puppies.

'Poverty Areas' To Be Visited by Mrs. Johnson

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson leaves Thursday on a daylong trip into unemployment areas of Eastern Kentucky, following the same route another first lady — Eleanor Roosevelt — took a quarter-century ago.

The area of Jackson, Quick and Breathitt County that Mrs. Johnson will visit still suffers from the poverty of coal mine closings that Mrs. Roosevelt found there.

President Johnson has included it in his Appalachia program.

as Franklin D. Roosevelt did in antipoverty efforts of that day.

A map of the First Lady's tour includes such places as Hazard and Troublesome Creek.

Mrs. Johnson will drive up the rugged mountain roads that follow the streams to see a one-room school that operates with one electric light.

She'll sample the 10-cent-a-day hot lunch the 25 pupils get under a government surplus food project. The food has to be carried from a neighbor's house where it is prepared, over a footbridge that crosses a mountain stream.

The parallels with Mrs. Roosevelt's trip are many, including the early starting time of 7 a.m.

Mrs. Roosevelt took a special train to get there. Mrs. Johnson will fly in a chartered plane to Lexington and go by car and helicopter into eastern Kentucky.

In 1939 Mrs. Roosevelt died.

located Breathitt County High School in Jackson. Mrs. Johnson will go there to dedicate a new gymnasium.

Mrs. Roosevelt looked in on a training project where boys were learning how to make furniture from native woods.

Mrs. Johnson will tour the University of Kentucky's wood utilization center in Quicksand, where efforts are being made to bolster the wood industry and train workers in these skills.

Mrs. Johnson, 51, will stay overnight at a Lexington hotel after delivering an evening speech at a dinner of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs in that city.

Mrs. Johnson's trip originated with an invitation last December from the federation to make a speech.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt is scheduled to attend the gym dedication ceremonies, where Mrs. Johnson will make a few remarks.

Nikita Praises Egyptian Fight Against Israel

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev visited the northern end of the Suez Canal today and paid tribute to the "courageous defenders" who fought the British-French-Israeli invasion of 1956.

Taking note of Khrushchev's evident displeasure at previous riotous crowd displays, Egyptian security forces put barbed wire all along his half-mile route from the Port Said railway station to Martyrs Square, where thousands of cheering Egyptians awaited.

Appearing rested from the heat and excitement he encountered in upper Egypt last week, the Soviet premier waved cheerfully as he stood beneath the 150-foot obelisk erected in recognition of Egypt's war dead. He placed a 10-foot wreath to the courageous defenders of Port Said on the monument.

As the 70-year-old premier stood holding his straw hat in his hand, 120 white pigeons were released in the sunlit square and trumpeters sounded a fanfare.

Khrushchev, his host President Gamal Abdel Nasser and President Abdel Salam Aref of Iraq stood with bowed heads for two minutes of silent tribute to the dead.

After the brief ceremony, the Soviet premier drove 200 yards in an open American convertible to a decorated pavilion set up for the program of speeches.

Children released hundreds of yellow, blue and pink balloons bearing portraits of Khrushchev and Nasser.

On the 3½-hour train ride from Cairo, Khrushchev greeted large crowds at brief stops at Zagazig and Ismailia. Many more thousands of Egypt's poor farmers cheered him as the train slowly continued to Port Said. The trip normally takes about 2½ hours, but today it was slowed an hour to give the Soviet leader maximum exposure.

Deaths

DETROIT (AP) — William Ledyard Mitchell, 82, a founder of Chrysler Corp. in 1925, died Monday when it was formed from the remnants of the old Maxwell Motor Corp., died Monday at his home. A native of Cincinnati, Mitchell was general manager of operations at Chrysler and later chairman of the board of Chrysler Corp. of Canada. He retired in 1947.

NEW YORK (AP) — Maj. Henry Stewart Hooker, 84, a law partner of Franklin D. Roosevelt before Roosevelt entered politics, died Sunday at his home.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Maj. Gen. Martin E. Griffin (Ret.), 63, Army medical supply specialist, died Monday in Brooke Army Medical Center. Griffin received the Legion of Merit for his World War II work in Africa and Italy.

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Dr. William C. MacCarty, 83, pioneer in surgical pathology at the Mayo Clinic, died Sunday. A native of Louisville, MacCarty was associated with the clinic from 1907 until retirement in 1948. He was a founder and past president of the American Society of Clinical Pathology.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Thomas J. Zender-Browne, 83, professor of medicine at Princeton University for 30 years prior to retirement in 1934, died Sunday. A native of Fall River, Mass., he taught at the University of North Carolina and was a New York public schools official before going to Princeton.

Man Who Killed Skipper Tries Suicide in Jail

HONOLULU (AP) — The chief steward of the freighter Poma, held for questioning in last Friday's high seas ax-killing of Norwegian skipper Jacob Natvig, is in a Honolulu hospital psychiatric ward after an apparent suicide attempt Tuesday. He had slashed his wrist.

Honolulu police quoted the steward, Anker Baardsen, 42, as saying: "I tried to kill myself because everybody on the ship thinks I killed the captain. Everybody is against me. My wife and son died a year ago and I've nothing left to live for."

The 51-year-old captain, father of two, was discovered dead in his cabin by the first mate, Alf Olsen. Natvig had been hacked to death with an ax taken from a bulkhead outside his cabin.

The 10,500-ton Brazilian-owned freighter was 600 miles east of Hawaii, heading for Formosa from Los Angeles with a load of scrap metal, when the slaying was discovered and the ship diverted to Honolulu.

Caroline Kennedy's School to Be Closed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Caroline Kennedy's famous White House school is being closed at the end of the present term. One of its teachers will take over a new cooperative school Mrs. John F. Kennedy is setting up for John Jr., 3, and his friends.

Caroline, 6, who is finishing first grade, will attend the Sacred Heart Convent, a Roman Catholic school in Bethesda, Md., next year. Her school has been meeting at the British Embassy since her father was assassinated.

Alice Grimes of Providence, R.I., Caroline's teacher this year, will take over the cooperative, which will meet in the children's homes, a spokesman for Mrs. Kennedy said Tuesday.

Two signers of the Declaration of Independence became U.S. presidents: John Adams and Thomas Jefferson.
